CARRANZA'S HOLD ON MEXICO SEEMS TO BE WEAKENING

UNLESS BORDER CONDITIONS FORCE ACTION REPLY TO DEMAND FOR WITHDRAWAL WILL NOT BE MADE UNTIL AFTER ST. LOUIS CONVENTION.

Washington, June 13.—Unless the increasing seriousness of conditions in Mexico forces action, dispatch of the reply to General Carranza's demand for withdrawal of American troops probably will be delayed until after the St. Louis convention, because the administration desires to avoid any drastic steps at a time when it might appear to be prompted by political influences.

Secretary Lansing and his advisers are said to have given careful consideration to the possibility that the administration might be charged with playing politics in dealing with the problem. The rapid spread of anti-American propaganda in northern Mexico, however, coupled with the increasingly grave economic conditions, may take the situation out of their hands.

The state department today received confirmation of the identification of one of the Mexicans killed in the Coleman ranch raid as Lieutenant-Colonel Villareal of the Carranza army. It is understood the development immediately was called to General Carranza's attention.

CARRANZA'S CONTROL OVER MEN IS LOOSE.

The loose control of the Carranza commanders over their men is one of the complicating factors with which the administration has been confronted all along.

A sharp rejoinder is being prepared to the Carranza note. It will repeat the determination of President Wilson to keep American troops in Mexico until the Carranza forces have shown their ability and intention to properly police the border states. It also is to rebuke the de facto government for the suggestions and statements in its note questioning the good faith of the Washington administration. Some officials regard parts of the Mexican note as insulting to a degree not to be tolerated, and if it is followed its author will be called to sharp account.

Secretary Lansing has had before him a mass of data dealing with the assertions of fact set up by the Mexican note. He expects to be able to refute most of these statements and the daily crop of messages from Mexico telling of new disturbances will supply additional evidence that the de facto government does not in fact exercise the control it claims over the border states.

PREPARING TO MEET EMERGENCIES.

Pending the sending of the reply, steps have been in progress some days toward meeting any emergency that may arise. Conferences between state and naval officials have resulted in the formulation of definite plans for the removal of Americans who would gather in Mexican ports should a serious outbreak of anti-American feeling force them to flee, or should there be a clash between American and Mexican troops. It is known, too, that the possibility of calling out more state militia to protect the border has been the subject of renewed discussion among officials.

The motive behind the anti-American propaganda and the precise attitude of General Carranza toward the agitation both are subjects of speculation. Many officials are convinced that the de facto government is tottering and think Carranza may have sent his belligerent note with the deliberate purpose of provoking the Washington administration to intervention.

CAMPAIGN WILL BE ON QUESTION OF SUBMISSION ONLY

REPRESENTATIVE PROHIBITION DEMOCRATS MEET IN FORT WORTH AND OUTLINE PLANS TO ORGANIZE STATE FOR COMING ELECTION.

Fort Worth, June 13.—Submission and submission only was the prevailing sentiment of the meeting of the state prohibitionists held in the Chamber of Commerce here Tuesday afternoon. This sentiment had crystallized in the minds of most of the delegates and it was enunciated in the afternoon by statements of Chairman M. H. Wolfe of Dallas.

Chairman Wolfe was supported in this by J. H. Veatch of Joshua, a delegate to the convention at San Antonio. The discussion simmered down to submission, or inclusion of a wide program, with the submission advocates coming out on top. Although only a small percentage of those expected were on hand for the meeting at the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday morning, after Judge John T. Duncan of LaGrange was elected chairman, the forty-five present drew up an organization of the state for the campaign with submission at the primaries next July, which was reported and unanimously adopted by the delegates Tuesday afternoon at 3:30.

Provision made for organization of the entire state by county meetings to be held next Saturday, June 17. These will be held in the court house at 2 p. m. on that day, or the earliest day thereafter. Names of officers selected at these meetings to be furnished the state chairman and a county organization to be perfected.

H. L. Mosely started the meeting by scoring the Anti-Saloon League for its activities in democratic politics and warned such actions would injure the prohibition cause. This created a sensation. It was followed by Dr. A. J. Barton's plea for personal privileges, cries to adjourn and finally the league was defeated by other delegates. John T. Duncan of LaGrange presided and E. G. Senter of Waco acted as secretary.

The organization committee, composed of M. H. Wolfe, Dallas; Oscar Gillespie, Fort Worth; J. Z. Miller, Belton; Harry Halsell, Decatur; Dr. John C. Granberry, Georgetown; Jess Baker, Granberry; E. G. Senter, Waco; and W. Carroll of Beaumont, handed in the report containing five planks.

Provision was made for an executive committee of nine, and the following men appointed: M. H. Wolfe, chairman; Dallas; O. W. Gillespie, Fort Worth; C. A. Standford, Sherman; J. M. Harris, Austin; Clarence Gilmore, Willis Point; W. S. Rowland, Temple, and two others to be appointed by the chairman.

Recommendation was made that the campaign be confined solely to the submission question and co-operation of all democrats who favor submission in the campaign.

The efforts of the Anti-Saloon League was commended and its aid welcomed in the campaign.

Marion Lambert Threatened Suicide Says Witness

Waukegan, Ill., June 13.—According to testimony given today in the trial of Will H. Orpet, the University of Wisconsin student, charged with the murder of his former sweetheart, Marion Lambert, a Lake Forest high school girl, the latter's apparent happiness during the last few months of her life was assumed to hide from her mother the real status of affairs. According to the same witness, Miss Lambert threatened suicide on several occasions.

It was Josephine Davis, another Lake Forest high school student and confidante of the dead girl, who testified to these things today, despite the fact that the whole of the prosecution case was believed to be built around the testimony which was to be given by Miss Davis, State's Attorney Dady and his assistant, David R. Joslyn, were taken by surprise and endeavored vainly to shake the girl's testimony, pointing out that Miss Davis had given contradictory evidence before the grand jury which indicted Orpet.

For a time, Miss Davis testified Marion Lambert was much perturbed about what she believed was her condition and confided to the witness that she feared she was to become a mother. Subsequently when that fear was passed she feared lest she should lose the love of her sweetheart. Finally, Miss Davis stated on the stand, she became greatly depressed and melancholy when it was reported that Orpet was engaged to Miss Celeste Youkers, a teacher and former classmate of his.

"If he has lost his love for me, I'll kill myself," the witness testified Miss Lambert said.

INDEPENDENTS SAY STANDARD OIL PUT GASOLINE PRICES UP

Washington, June 13.—The federal trade commission today concluded its investigation of the rise in gasoline prices, ending a two-days' final hearing after representatives of Standard Oil and various independent companies had given divergent explanations of the present situation in the industry.

A report based on the hearings and on the results of weeks of investigation by the commission's agents will be made public soon and will be transmitted to congress in response to a resolution asking for an inquiry.

The independent jobbers and refiners who appeared before the commission today and yesterday were virtually unanimous in placing responsibility for the increases on the Standard Oil companies, who they charged had refused to compete and had fixed prices. Standard Oil representatives replied to the charges, but did not enter into an explanation of the elements behind the soaring cost of gasoline to consumers.

Demoralization in the industry throughout the middle west, independent jobbers declared, had resulted from the failure of the Standard Oil company to condone to compete with the many independent companies of Ohio, which, by maintaining a retail price several cents higher than that fixed in the west by the Indiana company, attracted the trade from the Texas and Oklahoma independent refiners. Western dealers who said they were forced to sell at the low figure set by the Indiana company charged that they were being put out of business by inability to get oil.

John G. Milburn, counsel for the Standard Oil of New Jersey, and R. W. Stewart, a director of the Indiana corporation, declared the Indiana and Ohio concerns were not influenced by a common directorate, but it would be bad business judgment for them to compete.

Teutonic Sons Take Stand for Hughes

Chicago, June 13.—The Teutonic Sons of America, through the national council of the organization, today announced the adoption at a meeting here of resolutions calling on "all American citizens of Teutonic extraction or sympathy to work for the election of Hughes and Fairbanks."

More Prohibition for Louisiana.

Baton Rouge, June 13.—The Louisiana house today finally passed the bill which prohibits the sale of near beer in dry territory in the state. The measure had passed the senate and goes to the governor's signature.

Few Members in House.

Washington, June 13.—The house concluded debate on the fortifications bill today but deferred a vote because of the absence of many members who went to the national conventions.

President Wilson Tells West Point Graduates That America Must Be Put First

West Point, N. Y., June 13.—President Wilson, making his first address since the presidential campaign began today, discussed preparedness, militarism, Americanism, the causes of the war in Europe, peace, the Monroe doctrine, divided allegiance, and the ideals of America. He declared it is the present imperative duty of the United States to be prepared, adding, "Mankind is going to know that when America speaks she means what she says."

The president said the United States should not be a nation with "a chip on its shoulder," but a calm nation which will withhold its hands as long as possible and strike only for victory.

The president's address ran through almost the entire list of subjects discussed by former Justice Hughes in his telegram accepting the republican nomination. He declared that the United States is ready to join with other nations to see that the kind of justice it believes in is given.

Shaking his finger emphatically, the president told the graduates of the military academy and a large audience that nobody who does not put America first can be tolerated. He added, however, that true Americans should set a good example.

PRESENT WAR NOT AN ACCIDENT.

The president declared the present war did not come by accident, but that it had to come. The United States wants nothing from Europe, he said, and there is nothing she wants which she must get by war. He sounded a warning that no man can tell what the next day will bring forth in the world's events.

The word "Americanism" was used today by the president for the first time in recent addresses. He constantly referred to the West Point graduates to whom he was speaking, but referred more to national and international affairs.

The president's speech was frequently interrupted by applause and he was cheered as he concluded. The president's speech followed:

"I look upon this body of men who are graduating today with a peculiar interest. I feel like congratulating them that they are living in a day not only so interesting because fraught with change, but also because so responsible. Days of responsibility are the only days that count in time, because they are the only days that test of quality. They are the only days when manhood and purpose is tried out as if by fire."

NOT LIKE ORDINARY GRADUATES.

"I need not tell you young gentlemen that you are not like an ordinary graduating class of one of our universities. The men in those classes look forward to the life which they are to lead after graduation with a great many questions in their mind. Most of them do not know exactly what occupations they are going to follow. All of them are conjecturing what will be the line of duty and advancement and the ultimate goal of success for them."

DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL CONVENTION WILL OPEN IN ST. LOUIS THIS NOON

Secretary Baker Brings Draft of Platform and Word That President Favors Nomination of Marshall Again, Putting Harmony Program on Firm Basis—Will Seek Progressive Votes.

NO FIGHT OVER PROHIBITION EXPECTED

Suffragists Will Endeavor to Get Strong Plank But Belief Is That Recommendation Be Made That They Try to Obtain Ballot From States—Probable Manager of Coming Campaign Still Question to Be Solved.

St. Louis, June 13.—Arrival here tonight of Secretary Newton D. Baker, President Wilson's personal representative, bearing the "president's own" draft of the platform and news that he desires renomination of Vice President Marshall firmly established the harmony program for the democratic national convention opening tomorrow.

When Chairman Wm. F. McCombs of the democratic national committee, left his hotel at noon today, tomorrow leaders expect all pre-convention discord to be blended in one harmonious note. A program of agreement upon both the presidential and vice presidential nominations and the platform as well as apparently determined upon by the leaders.

Vice presidential boom and booms around which most of the pre-convention fights have centered wilted away tonight under influence of the personal message from the white house. Secretary Baker also effectually disposed of the vice presidential boom in his own behalf which had attained prominence in the belief in some quarters that Mr. Marshall would be the administration support.

PRESIDENT IS FOR MARSHALL.

"The president is for the re-nomination of Vice President Marshall," was the emphatic statement tonight from Secretary Baker upon his arrival with the platform draft subsequently complete and written largely if not wholly by the president himself.

"So far as I know," Mr. Baker added, "the president has not considered any other nominees. As to this movement started in my behalf I am for Mr. Marshall. I am here as a delegate from Ohio, I ran in a popular primary pledged to support Mr. Marshall and obviously could not allow myself to be considered."

"The president's own" draft of the platform—a single copy—will be delivered by Mr. Baker to Senator Stone of Missouri, chairman-to-be of the resolution committee. Little change in it is anticipated. Mr. Wilson wrote his draft after frequent consultations with leaders at Washington, is said to have written it himself and sent the only copy to St. Louis by Secretary Baker.

Although Mr. Baker declined tonight to disclose the president's platform views these outstanding factors were learned following his arrival:

PLATFORM TO BE PEACE AND PREPAREDNESS.

The platform will dwell principally on peace, preparedness for peace and prosperity.

Despite agitation by some democratic leaders, President Wilson disapproves insertion of a plank creating nomination of a supreme court justice for president, or favoring a constitutional amendment prohibiting justices from seeking other public federal offices.

The president desires adoption of a platform so progressive that it will appeal to and attract members of the progressive party but without an open direct invitation to the progressives to swing their strength to the democratic ticket.

Woman suffrage workers will be recognized but the platform probably will suggest that they exhaust their efforts for the ballot in the respective states, the primary authority for political qualifications.

The principal planks, it was authoritatively stated, will deal with the administration's trials and achievements and handling international and Mexican affairs, its rapid and deliberate steps toward "preparedness for peace" and the administration's record of economic and industrial legislation contributing to general prosperity.

PROBABLE CAMPAIGN MANAGER IN DOUBT.

Secretary Baker was besieged tonight for information regarding the probable campaign manager, the chairman of the national committee. It became known that Col. E. M. House and Fred B. Lynch, Minnesota national committeemen, have been practically eliminated from consideration. Colonel House, it was said, was asked by the president to take the place of a believed another should manage the fight as the new chairman of the national committee.

National Committeeman Homer S. Cummings of Connecticut, Edward N. Hurley of Chicago, Wm. L. Saunders of New Jersey are also under consideration. Vance McCormick and R. H. Morris, both of Pennsylvania, are said to have been suggested by former Representative A. Mitchell Palmer of that state.

William W. Marsh, Iowa, national committeeman, was prominently mentioned tonight for treasurer and Henry W. Morgenthau of New York, former

ETHERIDGE FOR WILSON.

Dallas, Texas, June 13.—Judge P. M. Etheridge of Dallas, a delegate to the national progressive convention at Chicago, returned here tonight and in a statement renounced allegiance to the progressive party, declaring his intention of supporting the national democratic ticket against Charles E. Hughes, republican presidential nominee.

Judge Etheridge was progressive candidate for governor of Texas in 1914.

Russian Advance Seems To Be Slowing Down Some

The Associated Press summarizes the war news as follows:

In Volhynia and Galicia the Russians are continuing their strong offensive against the Austro-Hungarians and Germans and on various sectors in both regions they have made advances and captured additional prisoners and war stores.

In Galicia, the drive of the Russians has brought them across the Dniester river where they have captured the towns of Zale Szczyk and Horodenka, where they are pressing forward toward the Pruth river and the Bukovina frontier with Czerowitz their objective. Numerous Austrian fortifications in this region have fallen into the hands of the Russians.

Further north, fighting is taking place around Tarnopol where the Austro-Hungarians, reinforced by Germans, are holding back the attempts of the advance in the direction of Lem-burg, capital of Galicia. Northeast of Tarnopol, near Verobekia, positions have changed hands repeatedly in the heavy fighting, while east of Kozio, which lies southwest of Tarnopol, the capture of a Russian advanced post is reported by Vienna.

In Volhynia, northwest of Lutsk, the Russians have driven out the Austrians near Rostche and occupied the town of Torchin, while west of Koiki, north of Lutsk, the Austrians have again repulsed the Russians, who were attempting to cross the Styr river, inflicting heavy losses on them.

The diversion of the Germans on the northern part of the front apparently has not yet assumed great proportions.

The last Petrograd official communication, regarding movement of Russian positions at many points, while Berlin only records the defeat of Russian cavalry brigades southeast of Jacobstadt and an increase in the Russian artillery fire in the region of Bar-onvich.

The Canadian troops in the region of Ypres have made a notable gain over the Germans, retaking from them southeast of Zillebeke in "a gallant and successful assault" more than 1,500 yards of former British positions which the Germans captured recently. The vigorous ground was held despite a rainstorm which the Germans suffered heavy casualties in the fighting.

After driving their wedge further into the French line northeast of Verdun Monday the Germans on Tuesday did not follow up their advantage with infantry attacks. Only intermittent bombardments are taking place around Verdun.

In the Lagarina valley of the Austro-Italian theatre the Italians have taken by assaults strong Austrian positions and repulsed heavy counter attacks launched by the Austrians. On the Posina Astico front the Austrians penetrated Motostina, but were later driven out and in the Sugana valley they met with repulse with considerable losses in an attempt to advance east of the Miso torrent.

Slight successes for their respective sides in Asia Minor are reported by the Russian and Turkish war offices. No important changes in the situation in this region have occurred, however.

Efforts to Avert Strike Of Railroads Falls Through

New York, June 13.—Although the conference representatives of the railroads of the country and their employees technically still is in session, spokesmen for both sides declared tonight the negotiations intended to avert a general strike have failed. The conference will in all probability break up when the railroads finish the explanation of their counter-proposition to meet the demands of the men.

The failure of the conference does not mean that a general strike of 320,000 railroad men affected will immediately follow, both the railroad men and managers say. The result of the conference must first be reported to the men. A strike vote will follow and if the strike is authorized the workers will then renew their demands. Only in the event of another failure to agree either through compromise or arbitration would the strike order become effective.

The demands of the men include an eight-hour day, time and a half for over-time and retention of existing methods of double compensation for different forms of labor during the one work day.

The contingent proposition of the railroads while granting the shorter work day and overtime, excludes the double compensation feature. It is the fact that has caused the apparent disruption of the conference.

DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL CONVENTION WILL OPEN

Secretary Baker Brings Draft of Platform and Word That President Favors Nomination of Marshall Again, Putting Harmony Program on Firm Basis—Will Seek Progressive Votes.

NO FIGHT OVER PROHIBITION EXPECTED

Suffragists Will Endeavor to Get Strong Plank But Belief Is That Recommendation Be Made That They Try to Obtain Ballot From States—Probable Manager of Coming Campaign Still Question to Be Solved.

St. Louis, June 13.—Arrival here tonight of Secretary Newton D. Baker, President Wilson's personal representative, bearing the "president's own" draft of the platform and news that he desires renomination of Vice President Marshall firmly established the harmony program for the democratic national convention opening tomorrow.

When Chairman Wm. F. McCombs of the democratic national committee, lets his gavel sound at noon tomorrow leaders expect all pre-convention disputes to be blended in one harmonious note. A program of agreement upon both the presidential and vice presidential nominations and the platform as well as apparently determined upon by the leaders.

PRESIDENT IS FOR MARSHALL.

"The president is for the re-nomination of Vice President Marshall," was the emphatic statement tonight from Secretary Baker upon his arrival with the platform draft subsequently complete and written largely if not wholly by the president himself.

"So far as I know," Mr. Baker added, "the president has not considered any other nominee. As to the movement started in my behalf I am for Mr. Marshall. I am here as a delegate from Ohio, I ran in a popular primary pledged to support Mr. Marshall and obviously could not allow myself to be considered."

"The president's own" draft of the platform—a single copy—will be delivered by Mr. Baker to Senator Stone of Missouri, chairman-to-be of the resolutions committee. Little change is anticipated. Mr. Wilson wrote his draft after frequent consultations with leaders at Washington, is said to have written it himself and sent the only copy to St. Louis by Secretary Baker.

Although Mr. Baker declined tonight to disclose the president's platform views these outstanding facts were learned following his arrival:

PLATFORM TO BE
PEACE AND PREPAREDNESS.

The platform will dwell principally upon "peace, preparedness for peace and prosperity."

Despite agitation by some democratic leaders, President Wilson disapproves insertion of a plank criticizing nomination of a supreme court justice for president, or favoring a constitutional amendment prohibiting justices from seeking other public federal offices.

"The president desires adoption of a platform so progressive that it will appeal to and attract members of the progressive party but without an open, direct invitation to the progressives to swing their strength to the democratic ticket."

Woman suffrage workers will be recognized but the platform probably will suggest that they exhaust their efforts for the ballot in the respective states, the primary authority for political qualifications.

The principal plank, it was authoritatively stated, will deal with the administration's trials and achievements and handling international and Mexican affairs, its rapid and deliberate steps toward "preparedness for peace" and the administration's record of economic and industrial legislation contributing to general prosperity.

PROBABLE CAMPAIGN
MANAGER IN DOUBT.

Secretary Baker was besieged tonight for information regarding the probable campaign manager, the chairman of the national committee. It became known that Col. E. M. House and Fred B. Lynch, Minnesota national committeeman, have been practically eliminated from consideration. Colonel House, it was said, was asked by the president to take the place but believes another should manage the fight as the new chairman of the national committee.

National Committeeman Homer S. Cummings of Connecticut, Edward N. Hurley of Chicago, Wm. L. Saunders of New Jersey are also under consideration. Vance McCormick and R. H. Morris, both of Pennsylvania, are said to have been suggested by former Representative A. Mitchell Palmer of that state.

Wilbur W. Marsh, Iowa, national committeeman, was prominently mentioned tonight for treasurer and Henry W. Morgenthau of New York, former

ETHERIDGE FOR WILSON.

Dallas, Texas, June 13.—Judge F. M. Etheridge of Dallas, a delegate to the national progressive convention at Chicago, returned here tonight and in a statement renounced allegiance to the progressive party, declaring his intention of supporting the national democratic ticket as against Charles E. Hughes, a republican presidential nominee.

Judge Etheridge was progressive candidate for governor of Texas in 1914.

Russian Advance Seems To Be Slowing Down Some

The last Petrograd official communication merely reports bombardments of Russian positions at many points, while Berlin only records the defeat of Russian cavalry brigades southeast of Jacobstadt and an increase in the Russian artillery fire in the region of Baranovichi.

The Canadian troops in the region of Ypres have made a notable gain over the Germans, retaking from them southeast of Zillebeke in a gallant and successful assault "more than 1,500 yards of former British positions which the Germans captured recently. The regained ground was held despite a vigorous shelling by the Germans. The Germans suffered heavy casualties in the fighting."

In Galicia, the drive of the Russians has brought them across the Dniester river where they have captured the towns of Zale Szczy and Hordenka, where they are pressing forward toward the Pruth river and the Bukovina frontier with Czernowitz their objective. Numerous Austrian fortified positions in this region have fallen into the hands of the Russians.

Further north, fighting is taking place around Tarnopol where the Austro-Hungarians, reinforced by Germans, are holding back the attempts of the advance in the direction of Lemn of the capital of Galicia. Northeast of Tarnopol, near Verobieka, positions have changed hands repeatedly in the heavy fighting, while east of Kozlo, the southwest of Tarnopol, the capture of a Russian advanced post is reported by Vienna.

In Volhynia, northwest of Lutsk, the Russians have driven out the Austrians near Holitch and occupied the town of Torchin, while west of Kolki, north of Lutsk, the Austrians have again repulsed the Russians, who were attempting to cross the Rtyr river, inflicting heavy losses on them.

The diversion of the front apparently has not yet assumed great proportions.

After driving their wedge further into the French line northeast of Verdun Monday the Germans on Tuesday did not follow up their advantage with infantry attacks. Only intermittent bombardments are taking place around Verdun.

In the Lagarina valley of the Austro-Italian theatre the Italians have taken by assaults strong Austrian positions and repulsed heavy counter attacks launched by the Austrians. On the Posina Astico front the Austrians penetrated the Italian line, but were driven out and in the Sugana valley they met with repulse with considerable losses in an attempt to advance east of the Maso torrent.

Slight successes for their respective sides in Asia Minor are reported by the Russian and Turkish war offices. No important changes in the situation in this region have occurred, however.

FEELING AGAINST AMERICANS GROW

MEXICAN NEWSPAPERS INDICATE INCREASING ANIMOSITY FOR HATED "GRINGOES."

Carranza Officials Believed Behind Outbreak—Hope is to Force the Withdrawal of Troops.

El Paso, June 13.—Newspapers brought to El Paso today from several cities in the interior of Mexico showed an increasing animosity for Americans. Editorials in most of them referred to Carranza's recent note as a "slap in the face" for Uncle Sam, while stories of volunteer corps organizing for duty in case of international trouble were frequent.

The principal article in a leading newspaper of Saltillo, a semi-official organ, pointed out that "while the colossus of the north has an advantage in numbers of supplies, the history of the Spanish peninsular campaign shows that the poorly equipped troops were able to break down the great army of Napoleon and guerrilla tactics now should be able, in the event of intervention, to wear out the forces of the United States."

Today's reports to local mining companies from their representatives in Chihuahua City and Parral indicated that the antagonism against the United States continues and that minor demonstrations are frequent, but that the military had the mobs sufficiently under control to prevent violence.

Apprehension here for the safety of Americans in these cities abated somewhat upon receipt of rumors to the effect that several Americans had been killed in Chihuahua City were current here during the day.

That some Carranza officials are behind the sudden outbreak of anti-American feeling in the republic is the assertion today of a widely informed and reputable Mexican upon his arrival from the interior. He said that they are supporting agitators for the double purpose of creating support and sympathy for the Carranza government in its financial and industrial troubles and embarrassing the American administration. In this way, he explained, these officials hope to force the withdrawal of the American troops, which would be a diplomatic victory of the utmost importance for the de facto government.

But he added, while these officials have said the agitators, they have kept the mobs well in hand to disprove any possible charges of anarchy in the republic.

Reports to the Mexican consulate here today told of the capture at Temoahc, Chihuahua, of Colonel Valentín Vasquez and Lieutenant Alejandro Villista officers. The capture of the bandits, together with that of Cruz Domínguez, recently reported from Chihuahua City, was described as the most important since the capture of Pablo López, it being pointed out that they have been the sole remaining outlaw leaders of importance in southern Chihuahua.

Antonio Prieto, chief of the Mexican boundary commission, left Juarez today for the capital upon orders from Carranza. It was assumed he is to confer with the first chief concerned in the territory disputed between the United States and Mexico because of the shifting of the bed of the Rio Grande.

The victims were mostly elevator employees and cargo trimmers. Three of the injured were in a critical condition tonight.

Two steamships, the Willem Van Driel, Sr., a Dutch vessel, and the British steamer Welbeck Hall, which were loading grain at the elevator, also were badly damaged by fire and wreckage dropped upon them from the elevator.

While the fire is thought to have been caused by an explosion of grain dust, a theory was advanced that it may have been caused by a bomb. This theory will be investigated, it is said. Conservative estimates placed the loss at more than $2,000,000.

Scores of men barely escaped with their lives. Thirty-four grain handlers and stevedores who were partially imprisoned in the hold of the Welbeck Hall, fought their way to freedom over the piles of grain. Gaining the deck of the ship, they found their way to shore out off by the flames. Some of them jumped overboard and were picked up. Launches ran alongside and took off the others.

Raiders of Coleman Ranch Bound Over

Laredo, Tex., June 13.—Three Mexicans, alleged members of the bandit gang which raided the T. A. Coleman ranch, northwest of Laredo, Sunday were arraigned in justice court here this afternoon and bound over without bail to the grand jury which convenes Thursday, charged with conspiracy and horse theft. The three men, Norberto Pezot, Antonio Cuevas and Simon Solis, were captured by a sheriff's posse yesterday after a fight at a railroad bridge which they attempted to burn near Webb, Texas, east of Laredo. Three Mexicans also were killed in this fight.

NO INTENTION OF CHANGING POLICY.

President Wilson has no intention of changing his policy unless forced to do so. If a peaceful way can be found out of the difficulty presented by the Carranza note and the even more threatening spread of anti-American feeling in Mexico that will be the course pursued. In his treatment of the Mexican problem, Mr. Wilson is said to have worked always with regard to the fact that each step might have upon Latin-American nations generally, hoping to give them a clear demonstration of the good faith of the United States in its declarations of friendship.

It is known that before the outbreak of anti-Americanism, complicated further by the problem of framing a reply to the Carranza note, officials were considering a proposal that an international commission be formed to discuss all matters between the two countries.

No important dispatches were received at the war department today. At the state department consular reports continued to tell of the spread of the anti-American feeling. None of the demonstrations reported had any serious proportions, however. Many of the reports were rumors rather than eyewitness accounts.

De la Rosa Captured.

Mexico City, June 13.—The foreign office today notified James Linn Rodgers, representative of the United States, that the bandit chieftain, Luis de la Rosa, had been captured. The news came to the foreign office from the militant commandant in the state of Tamaulipas.

ambassador to Turkey, was said to be slated for chairman of the finance committee.

Regarding the plan broached by some leaders to send a square, clean invitation to the progressives to join the democrats or make specific platform overtures to that effect, Mr. Baker said:

"The progressives are a group of men who are earnestly and devotedly trying to serve a set of deep-rooted political beliefs. They don't want a piece of engraved stationery which they can call an invitation, but evidence that the democrats and progressives are trying to serve the same cause."

"The record of the democratic administration contrasted with the republican platform ought to satisfy any progressive that his opportunity lies with the democratic party."

HOPE FOR PROGRESSIVE SUPPORT.

"There could not be any direct invitation to the progressives in the democratic platform. We can only hope to get progressive support by drawing a platform so that it will meet their approval. I think that a great many progressive men are deeply disappointed with the meaningless republican platform and outraged at the betrayal of their own party. They will realize that the democratic platform and candidates will more nearly represent their own ideals and they will vote for President Wilson."

The administration plans to assume the aggressive role if possible, despite the coming campaign, hoping to keep the progressive faction in the more disadvantageous position of defense.

Secretary Baker said tonight that he hoped to spend much of the summer campaigning.

"I will give every minute of my time that is consistent with my full duty at the war department, going wherever the national committee thinks I can be of any service."

The democratic speakers, according to tentative plans, will be again under the immediate direction of Postmaster General Burleson.

In the Nebraska and Oklahoma delegations spirited fights involving prohibition developed over the selection of members on the committee of resolutions. The Nebraska delegation, after caucusing tonight, eight delegates favoring W. H. Thomas of the Bryan faction and eight holding out for W. D. Oldham of the anti-Bryan faction.

Among the Oklahoma delegates the anti-prohibition faction elected Roy Stafford of Oklahoma City for the resolutions committee. Representative William H. Murray was defeated for the place.

BRYAN WILL NOT URGHE PROHIBITION.

William J. Bryan announced definitely today that he would not urge a prohibition plank before the resolutions committee and added that he believed this year was no time for the party to touch upon that subject. Mr. Bryan said he did not expect to speak before the convention, but would do so if he were invited, and announced his intention of making democratic speeches all through the campaign.

"What will be the theme this year?" he was asked, and some of the inquirers referred to some of his former campaign slogans which have become celebrated sentences.

"I don't know," Mr. Bryan, meditatively, "I guess the open season for progressives would be a good topic."

Mr. Bryan was asked by friends what he thought of Colonel Roosevelt's provisional declaration to accept the progressive nomination.

"I think," said he, "it can best be compared to the reply of the maid who told the ardent swain the best she could do would be to be sister to him."

Straus for Hughes.

New York, June 13.—Among those who today pledged their support to Charles E. Hughes, republican presidential nominee were Oscar S. Straus, former candidate for governor of New York on the progressive ticket, and Everett C. Kolb, New Jersey, who nominated Col. John M. Parker for vice president at the Chicago progressive convention.

MEMORIAL SERVICE HELD IN WILSON IN KITCHENER'S HONOR

London, June 13, 7:40 p. m.—The memorial service to Field Marshal Earl Kitchener held in St. Paul's cathedral at noon today was the greatest ceremonial of national mourning since that for King Edward VII. It was attended by 3000 persons, including King George, Queen Mary, Queen Mother Alexandra, the cabinet, the diplomatic corps and high officers of the army and navy.

The hymn "Abide With Me" was the first number. From the psalms, "Out of the deep I have called unto thee, O Lord," and "The Lord is my Shepherd," were chanted. "Dead March" was rendered with tremendous effect by the great band of the Royal Engineers, reinforced by drummers of the Irish Guards.

After prayers from the burial service and the benediction, a bugle from a far recess of the cathedral sounded the notes of "Last Post." Finally the congregation sang "God Save the King," the thousands of voices with the roll of drums and accompanying brass giving the last verse with tremendous volume.

Flare throughout London were flown at half mast.

The stock exchange and many business houses suspended operations for an hour during the services.

Libel Suit Jurors to Get Drink of Wine of Cardui

Chicago, June 13.—By court order a quart bottle, twelve shell glasses and a cork were made an exhibit in the trial of the Chattanooga Medicine company's libel suit against Federal Judge Carpenter today.

The jurists were to determine whether the taste was like whiskey, wine, cordial or just plain Wine of Cardui.

The testimony closed before the noon adjournment and the jurors were excused while the lawyers argued as to who was to furnish the sample of the product, a criticism which in the medical association's journal led to the libel suit.

It should be freshly made or old. Finally it was decided the court bailiff should go to a drug store for a bottle which had been in stock for some time.

At the opening of court in the afternoon the bailiff appeared with a bottle of Wine of Cardui and twelve small glasses.

The bottle was passed among the jurors, who sampled the contents while the bailiff ranged the glasses on the rail in front of them. As the bailiff was about to pour Wine of Cardui to the glasses the judge, apparently making cognizance of the interest of the spectators, ordered the proceedings stopped. He said the jurors might sample the bottle's contents after the opening argument.

W. M. Hough, for the plaintiffs, thereupon outlined the alleged injury inflicted upon John A. and Z. C. Patterson, Jr., by the attacks of the Medical Journal on their product, and the accused Episcopal church as a means to further their business. At the close of his argument court adjourned without issuing an order for the sampling of the liquid.

army, I fancy, were not very interesting days.

"ANY POSSIBILITIES FOR WEST POINTERS."

"But in your case there are many extraordinary possibilities. Because gentlemen, no man can certainly tell you what the immediate future is going to be either in the history of this country, or in the history of the world. It is not by accident that the present war is to Europe. Every element was there. The contest had to come sooner or later, and it is not going to be by accident that the results are worked out, but by purpose."

He said that the United States has a purpose of the man who are strong enough to have guiding minds and indomitable wills when the time for decision and settlement come.

"And the part that the United States is to play has this distinction in it, that it is to be in any event a distinguished part. There is nothing that the United States wants that it has to get by war, but there are a great many things that the United States has to get by war, and it is to be to see that its life is not interfered with by anybody else who wants to do something."

DAYS ARE OF PREPAREDNESS.

"These are the days when we are making preparation, when the thing most commonly discussed around every sort of table, in every sort of circle, in the shops and in the streets, is preparedness; and undoubtedly, gentlemen, that is the present imperative duty of America to be prepared. But we ought to know what we are preparing for."

"Preparedness might be a very hazardous word if we did not know what we wanted to do with the force that we mean to accumulate and to get into fighting shape."

"America, fortunately, does know what she wants to do with her force. America, being safe from interference from the outside, all of its force is going to be behind its moral idea, and mankind is going to know that when America speaks she means what she says. We are not in for anything selfish, and we want the whole mighty power of America thrown into that scale, and not into any other."

"You know that the chief thing that is holding many people back from enthusiasm for that which is called preparedness is the fear of militarism. I want to say a word to you, young gentlemen, about militarism."

"You're not a militarist, because you are military. Militarism does not consist in the existence of an army, not even in the existence of a very great

It was assumed he is to confer with the first chief concerning the territory disputed between the United States and Mexico because of the shifting of the bed of the Rio Grande.

HOPE FOR PROGRESSIVE SUPPORT.

"There could not be any direct invitation to the progressives in the democratic platform. We can only hope to get progressive support by drawing a platform so that it will meet their approval. I think that a great many progressives are weary of the meaningless republican platform and outraged at the betrayal of their own party. They will realize that the democratic platform and candidates will more nearly represent their own deals and they will vote for President Wilson."

The administration plans to assume the aggressive role if possible during the coming campaign, hoping to keep the opposition in the more disadvantageous position of defense.

Secretary Baker said tonight that he hoped to spend much of the summer campaigning.

"I will give every minute of my time that is consistent with my full duty at the war department, going wherever the national committee thinks I can be of any service," he declared.

The democratic speakers, according to tentative plans, will be again under the immediate direction of Postmaster General Burleson.

In the Nebraska and Oklahoma delegations, spirited fights involving prohibition developed over the selection of members on the committee of resolutions. The Nebraska delegation, after caucusing for two days, stood as a deadlock tonight, eight delegates favoring W. H. Thomas of the Bryan faction and eight holding out for W. D. Oldham of the anti-Bryan faction.

Among the Oklahoma delegates, the anti-prohibition faction elected Roy Stafford of Oklahoma City for the resolutions committee. Representative William H. Murray was defeated for the place.

NO INTENTION OF CHANGING POLICY.

President Wilson has no intention of changing his policy unless forced to do so. If a peaceful way can be found out of the difficulty presented by the Carranza note and the even more threatening spread of anti-American feeling in Mexico that will be the course pursued. In his treatment of the Mexican problem, Mr. Wilson is said to have worked always with regard to the effect that each step might have upon Latin-American nations generally, hoping to give them a clear demonstration of the good faith of the United States in its declarations of friendship.

It is known that before the outbreak of anti-Americanism, complicated further by the problem of framing a reply to the Carranza note, officials were considering a proposal that an international commission be formed to discuss all matters between the two countries.

No important dispatches were received at the war department today. At the state department, however, reports continued to tell of the spread of the anti-American feeling. None of the demonstrations reported had any serious proportions, however. Many of the reports were rumors rather than eyewitness accounts.

Mexico City, June 13.—The foreign office today notified James Lind Rodera, representative of the United States government, that the bandit chieftain, Luis de la Rosa, had been captured. ambassador to Turkey, was said to be selected for chairman of the finance committee.

Regarding the plan broached by some leaders to send a square, clear-cut platform to the progressives, Mr. Baker said:

"The progressives are a group of men who are earnest and devotedly trying to serve a set of deep-rooted political beliefs. They don't want a piece of engraved stationery which they can call an invitation, and they don't want the democrats to declare that they are trying to serve the same cause."

"The record of the democratic administration contrasted with the republican platform ought to satisfy any progressive that his opportunity lies with the democratic party."

MEMORIAL SERVICE HELD IN LONDON IN KITCHENER'S HONOR

London, June 13, 7:40 p. m.—The memorial service to Field Marshal Earl Kitchener held in St. Paul's cathedral at noon today was the greatest ceremonial of national mourning since that for King Edward VII. It was attended by 3000 persons, including King George, Queen Mary, Queen Mother Alexandria, the cabinet, the diplomatic corps and high officers of the army and navy.

The hymn "Abide With Me" was the first number. From the psalms, "Out of the deep I have called unto thee, O Lord," and "The Lord is my Shepherd," were chanted. "God Save the King" was rendered with tremendous effect by the great band of the Royal Engineers, reinforced by drummers of the Irish Guards.

After prayers from the burial service and the benediction, a bugle from a far recess of the cathedral sounded the notes of "Last Post." Finally the congregation sang "God Save the King," the thousands of voices with the roll of drums and accompanying brass giving the last verse with tremendous volume.

The American embassy was represented by Ambassador and Mrs. Page, Field Marshal Sir John French and General Sir William R. Robertson, chief of the imperial staff, were conspicuous in front pews.

Flashes throughout London were flown at half mast.

The stock exchange and many business houses suspended operations for an hour during the services.

Libel Suit Jurors to Get Drink of Wine of Cardui

Chicago, June 13.—By court order a quart bottle, twelve shell glasses and a corkscrew were made an exhibit in the trial of the Chattanooga Medicine company's libel suit against the American Medical association before Federal Judge Carpenter today.

The jurors were to have a drink from the bottle to determine whether the taste was like whiskey, wine, cordial or just plain Wine of Cardui.

The testimony closed before the noon adjournment and the jurors were released while the lawyers argued as to who was to furnish the sample of the product, a criticism which in the medical association's journal led to the trial by the manufacturers, and whether it should be freshly made or old.

Finally it was decided the court bailiff should go to a drug store for a bottle which had been in stock for some time. At 10 o'clock the jurors returned with the bottle of Wine of Cardui and twelve small glasses.

The bottle was passed among the jurors, who smelled the contents while the bailiff ranged the glasses on the rail in front of them. As the bailiff was about to pour Wine of Cardui to the glasses the judge, apparently recognizing the interest of the spectators, ordered the proceedings stopped. He said the jurors might sample the bottle's contents after the opening argument.

W. M. Hough, for the plaintiffs, thereupon outlined the alleged injury inflicted upon John A. and Z. C. Patterson, Jr., by the attacks of the Medical Journal on their product, and the accused that they had used the Methodist Episcopal church as a means to further their business. At the close of his argument court adjourned without issuing an order for the sampling of the liquid.

MANY POSSIBILITIES FOR WEST POINTERS.

"But in your case there are many possibilities, because, gentlemen, no man can certainly tell what the immediate future is going to be either in the history of this country, or in the history of the world. It is not by accident that the present war came to Europe. Every element was there, and the contest had to come sooner or later, and it is not going to be by accident that the results are worked out, but by purpose—by the purpose of the men who are strong enough to have guiding minds and indomitable wills when the time for decision and settlement come."

"And the part that distinction in it, that it is to be in any event a disinterested part. There is nothing that the United States wants that it has to get by war, but there are a great many things that the United States has to do. It has to see that its life is not interfered with by anybody else who wants to do something."

DAYS ARE OF PREPAREDNESS.

"These are the days when we are making preparation, when the thing most commonly discussed around every sort of table, in every sort of circle, in the shops and in the streets, is preparedness; and undoubtedly, gentlemen, that is the present imperative duty of America—to be prepared. But we ought to know what we are preparing for."

"Preparedness might be a very hazardous thing if we did not know what we wanted to do with the force that we mean to accumulate and to get into fighting shape."

"America, fortunately, does know what she wants to do with her force. America, being safe from interference from the outside, all of its force is going to be behind its moral idea, and mankind is going to know that when America speaks she means what she says. We are not in for anything selfish, and we want the whole mighty power of America thrown into that scale, and not into any other."

"You know that the chief thing that is holding many people back from enthusiasm for that which is called preparedness is the fear of militarism. I want to say a word to you, young gentlemen, about militarism."

"You're not a militarist because you are military. Militarism does not consist in the existence of an army, not even in the existence of a very great army. Militarism is a spirit. It is a point of view. It is a system. It is a purpose. The purpose of militarism is to use armies for aggression. It is the spirit of militarism—the citizen spirit."

"In a country where militarism prevails, the military man looks down upon the civilian, regards him as inferior, thinks of him as intended for his, and military man's support and use, and military man's point of view is impossible with us. There is as yet in this country, so far as I can discover, no taint of the spirit of militarism."

"You young gentlemen are picked out from the citizens of the United States to be that part of the force of the United States which makes its policy against interference. The idea I want to leave with you boys today is this:

"No matter what comes, always remember that first of all you are citizens of the United States before you are officers, and that you are officers because you represent in your profession what the citizenship of the United States stands for. There is no dancier or more entertaining American thought of militarism if you are genuine Americans. I am instructed by the constitution to use you for constitutional and patriotic purposes. And that is the only use you can be put to. Let it be known that nobody who does not put America first can consort with us. But we ought to set them the example by thinking American purposes and by entertaining American thoughts. We ought to be known that nobody who does not put America first can consort with us. But we ought to set them the example by thinking American purposes and by entertaining American thoughts. We ought to be known that nobody who does not put America first can consort with us. But we ought to set them the example by thinking American purposes and by entertaining American thoughts."

Missionary Sees Great Things in Store for China

After a visit to Waco which was enjoyed by hundreds who heard his inspiring talks, Rev. J. A. G. Shipley, for eighteen years a missionary in China, now stationed at Soo Chow, today (go) to Gatesville, returning to Waco Friday, and going then to Fort Worth, where he will speak next Sunday.

While in Waco he has been the guest chiefly of George W. Barcus and Rev. J. E. Crawford, the latter the missionary secretary of the Central Texas Methodist conference. His visit in these homes was greatly appreciated.

Rev. Mr. Shipley not only believes in China and the Chinese people, but states that they are progressing rapidly and that the old China is gone forever. He thinks that the United States is the best friend China has, and that most of the people there recognize that fact.

Colored Chautauqua Will be Held at the Taborian Park

For three days, June 15, 16 and 17, Taborian park will be the scene of an unusually interesting and instructive chautauqua, conducted under the auspices of the Interdenominational Ministers' association (colored).

Lectures, choir music, voice and instrumental solos, cadet drills and readings are to be found on the well-balanced programs arranged for the three-day event. Rev. J. M. Dawson, Dr. E. C. Culver, Hon. Pat Neff, Dr. J. H. Morris, and other prominent white people have been assigned places and have responded with great interest in educational work, both religious and secular, of all denominations and races are cordially invited.

The great Sunday school, all Christian Endeavor League, Baptist Young People's Union and the Epworth league have all united their efforts and this highly entertaining and instructive chautauqua is the result.

Very Effective Method for Banishing Hairs

(Modes of Today.)

At very little cost any woman can rid her face of hairy growths, if she will use the delatone treatment. This is made by mixing some water with a little powdered delatone. This paste is spread upon the hairy surface for two or three minutes, then rubbed off and the skin washed, when every trace of hair will have vanished. No harm results from this treatment, but care should be used to buy real delatone.

PRAISE FROM MINISTER'S WIFE

Tells of Her Long Suffering and How She Found Relief—Husband Joins in Commending Cardui.

Waynesville, N. C.—Mrs. Joseph Fry, wife of the pastor of Jonathan Church, Western North Carolina Conference, M. E. church, South, writes: "About 1899, about fifteen years ago, I had a severe case of typhoid fever and a relapse, which left me a very bad condition, which got worse all the time. Was so nervous, could not stay in the room alone for five minutes, and I was irregular.... My nervousness was an awful worry to me and my friends, and I couldn't sleep for four or five nights at a time. The doctors would often have to give me something to make me sleep.... Could do none of my work and had to keep a cook."

"I then began taking Cardui and after I had taken half a bottle I felt I was improving, and not so very long afterwards I was able to go to church. After I had taken four or five bottles I was able to turn off my cook and do my own work, and I got back my correct mental condition, for I had been so nervous and absent minded, since my illness.... I was also able to return to school and resume my studies and my piano lessons at Trinity College, where I was in attendance."

Rev. Mr. Fry writes: "She cannot praise Cardui too highly. It is well worth what it costs. I will recommend it to any lady in poor health."

Can you doubt the merit of Cardui, in the face of such evidence? Give it a trial. All good druggists sell Cardui.

MESDAMES HUGHES AND WILKINSON COMPLIMENTED

Mrs. J. W. Bondurant and Miss Jane Moore complimented their aunts, the Mesdames Hughes and Wilkinson, on Monday afternoon. This was an informal pleasure. Those asked were numbered among the closest friends of Mrs. Wilkinson and Mrs. Hughes.

MUCH INTEREST IN Y. W. C. A. ACTIVITIES

It is pleasing to note that many of the prominent women of our city are giving of their time and talent toward the success of the Y. W. C. A. athletics. Those who are coaches for the volleyball ball games during the week are the Mesdames George K. McLendon, Robert Dupree, Eva Prendergast and the Mesdames Ida Orand and Frances Van Boddie.

BOSQUE PICNICS ARE POPULAR THIS SUMMER

A party of young married people motored out to the Bosque on Monday evening last for a moonlight supper and a swim. The Bosque has already come into her usual summer popularity, many parties assembling every evening for the al fresco suppers. Those who formed a congenial group on Monday evening were Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Richey, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Willis, Mr. and Mrs. Ira W. Seley, Dr. and Mrs. Irwin Colgin, Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Moore, Dr. and Mrs. Merchant Colgin.

MRS. B. F. SCHROEDER HOSTESS TO TEACHERS

Mrs. B. F. Schroeder, in appreciation of the kindnesses extended to her little daughter, Marcia, entertained the faculty of the West Avenue school on Monday evening. Mrs. Schroeder gave interesting reminiscences of his life in France, and Mrs. Schroeder favored her guests with several piano numbers which was indeed a treat. Mrs. Schroeder is a polished musician, such as it is rare to hear. This compliment was greatly appreciated by the teachers in whose honor it was given.

HONORS OF THE VARSITY TO WACO STUDENTS

Among the Waco students who have scored success at the State university is William Hix Earle, president of the senior law class of 1916. Beside many honors which follow his name in the Cactus is the beautiful tribute from his fellow class men: "Billy—To have known Billy Earle has been both a pleasure and a reproach to ourselves—a pleasure in having had the opportunity of coming in daily contact with one of the most inspiring personalities that Varsity has ever known, and a reproach in bringing to light our own weaknesses, our imagined difficulties, our unwarranted complainings."

BARBECUE FOR JOHN NASH AT THE FISH POND

Complimenting his son, John Nash, who is just returned from the Culver Military academy at Culver, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Nash, Sr., issued invitations to a company of young folks for a barbecue supper at the Fish Pond on last Monday evening. This was just a merry, fun-loving crowd who enjoyed music, laughter and song with moonlight on the lake. Those who gave a hearty response to the invitation were: Misses Lillie Bess Logan, Marie Coates, Jimmie McLane, Lucile Peeples, Lillian Hudson, Myrtle Fleming, with Raymond Denton, John Nash, Sam Fleming, Will Parker, Percy Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Nash, Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mitchell, accompanied the young people.

MRS. J. H. BARNARD ENTERTAINS AT BRIDGE

It was quite the pleasing way in which Mrs. J. H. Barnard of the South Side expressed her appreciation of frequent invitations in the Octet Bridge club. The game for the coming week was within Mrs. Barnard's own home. To the club was added a good table. The club was a most pleasant and breezy, and sweet with fresh, colored roses. To Mrs. N. McMullen was awarded a blue bird vase overflowing with carnations for high score. To Mrs. A. L. Brown fell the consolation, correspondence cards. Table trophies, pretty cases of cutlery, were won by Miss May Jones and Mesdames Thomas and Cruger. Those enjoying Mrs. Barnard's hospitality were Mesdames Cruger, Cannon, Thomas, Zahn, Raelmer, Brown, Barnett, Curry, Elliott with Misses Nettie Autrey and May Jones.

VIRGINIA FITZHUGH HAS HIPPODROME PARTY

Little Miss Virginia Fitzhugh was hostess to one of the largest gatherings of the vacation season on Monday afternoon. This took the form of a Hippodrome party. The mother, Mrs. E. E. Fitzhugh, together with Mrs. J. W. Holloway, Mrs. Ray Rowell, Mrs. C. S. Carr and the two young lady daughters of the home, Misses Zoe and Katherine Fitzhugh, chaperoned this party of little girls. After the reels were enjoyed, refreshments were served in a downtown parlor, to Bessie Bird Rowell, Georgie Bell Bryson, Marjorie Reiser, Virginia Brown, Madeline Thomas, Hennie Myrl Holloway, Elizabeth Holloway, Virginia Henna, Evelyn Mae Bow, Mildred Womack, Hollyne Mac Nichols, Mary Lois Buck, Doris Buchanan, Ruth and Anna Agnes Maxwell, Mabel, Evelyn and Lillian Bruyere, Mildred McCullough, Virginia Carr, Imogene Berry, Orlena Sanger, Evelyn Gay, Jennie Page, Margaret Little and Katherine Lyles.

LONG-BOWMAN NUPTIALS SOLEMNIZED

A beautiful wedding, uniting the lives of Miss Marguerite Bowman of Mooreville and Roderick Jack Long of Dallas, was solemnized on last Wednesday morning. The home of the bride had been attractively decorated and formed a fit background for a most impressive ceremony.

With Mrs. H. C. Vance of Rockdale at the piano, the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march was the signal for the entrance of the bride and groom. Rev. W. J. Mayhew of Lorena. Immediately following came Miss Kathleen Bowman as maid of honor. Her dress was of white tulle with a touch of shell pink and white and shoes completed her costume. She carried a basket of pink and white sweet peas. As flower girls, Misses Evelyn Ashworth of Eddy and Katherine Rayzor of Denton were attractive in dainty white dresses with touches of pink. The bride entered with the groom. She wore a handsome blue tulle coat suit, with lace blouse and gray hat and shoes. Her bouquet was of white bride's roses and ferns. At the conclusion of the ceremony congratulations were unusually hearty. Then passage was made to the dining room, where sandwiches and punch were served. Here, too, was the cake, the cutting of which caused much merriment. The bride's book was presented over by Miss Hattie Darrow of Waco.

Mr. and Mrs. Long motored to Waco, where they took the train to Dallas, their future home.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Bowman and possesses a charm which has endeared her to a large circle of friends. The groom, a young business man of Dallas, holds the confidence and esteem of those who know him. Many handsome and useful gifts attested to the popularity of the young couple.

Out of town guests were: Mrs. H. C. Vance, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Gaither, Rockdale; Mrs. H. H. Langford, Misses Winnie and Laura Lee Langford, Haskell; Mrs. Charles Wilson, Cleburne; Dr. and Mrs. James Watson, Cameron; Mrs. A. C. Rayzor, Miss Eva Katherine Rayzor, Master Jas. Rayzor, Denton; Mrs. E. J. Kincannon, Mrs. E. L. Ashworth, George E. Ashworth, Miss Mary Evelyn Ashworth, Eddy; Misses Hattie Darrow, Katherine Douglas, Dorothy Douglas, May Jones and Messrs. Stephen Douglas, Sherman; Lunney and Walter Reese of Waco.

Society Notes

Miss Dorothy Scarborough, who takes up her work in New York as instructor in short story writing at Columbia, joins the ranks of Wacoans who are figuring prominently in the affairs of the metropolis. Waco is proud of the laurels which she and her brother, George Scarborough, have already won.

With Mrs. Marion Herz at the head of the decorations for the queen's ball, we feel assured of the success of that feature of the event.

The various committees for the Cotton Palace are forming rapidly and the following for the queen's ball is an excellent selection: Executive committee, Holt Massey, chairman; Mrs. A. W. Koch and Mrs. Ben K. Jennings, Committee on duchesses, W. R. Wiley, Ross Padgett, Will D. Lacy Jr., Coman Shear and Walter Fort. Committee on decorations, Mrs. Marion Herz.

Miss Nell Sykes as the guest of Mrs. Henry Miller in Corsica is receiving much publicity in social attention.

Miss Camille Searcy and Fay Smith are in Fort Worth for the week.

Mrs. Finney and Miss Olga Finney, who have been the guests of Mrs. Mary Manton for the past month, will complete their two weeks' visit with Mrs. Bert Lorraine Scott before leaving Monday for St. Louis.

Mrs. Quinlan Finley, regent of the Henry Downs chapter, announces officially that the meeting for Thursday has been recalled.

Friends learn with regret that it was necessary for Mrs. May Beasley, Hutchinson to be under an operation for appendicitis on yesterday.

Mrs. Perry Neale's friends are sorry to hear of her illness in Providence sanitarium.

Friends of Miss Pauline Breunstedt wish pleasure her return from the Providence sanitarium.

WHY WOMEN WRITE LETTERS

To Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co.

Women who are well often ask "Are the letters which the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. are continually publishing, genuine?" "Are they truthful?" "Why do women write such letters?"

In answer we say that never have we published a fictitious letter or name. Never, knowingly, have we published an untruthful letter, or one without the full and written consent of the woman who wrote it.

The reason that thousands of women from all parts of the country write such grateful letters to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. is that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought health and happiness into their lives, once burdened with pain and suffering. It has relieved women from some of the worst forms of female ills, from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, nervousness, weakness, stomach troubles and from the blues.

It is impossible for any woman who is well and who has never suffered to realize how these poor, suffering women feel when restored to health; their keen desire to help other women who are suffering as they did.

Census Taken Of City Fish

To be exact there are forty-seven fish in the fountain at the city hall, counting a few small minnows and a small gar—but the gar is dead now. The gar's death resulted when the fish were counted. Being less pliable with the circumscribed swimming facilities afforded by an ordinary wash-tub, the ambitious and fretful member of the eel family with a scissor mouth jumped his bounds yesterday afternoon while the fountain pool was being drained and cleaned. The verdict of the numbers of spectators at the annual pool clean-up was that the gar died of sun stroke. The sun-perch, of course, were able to stand the 90 degrees in the shade.

There was some ceremony attached to the fish count. Commissioner Ben Richards, Chief of Police Guy McNamara and other city hall notables were present when the fish were flopped into the fresh water from the tubs. Detective Bud Brandon kept the official count. Several members of the force recognized the various larger fish but they were placed back, and commented on their growth within the past few years. The pride of the collection now is a trio of large catfish.

Unlookers at the fountain always express their interest in the number of fish that the pool contains. The question was definitely settled yesterday.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

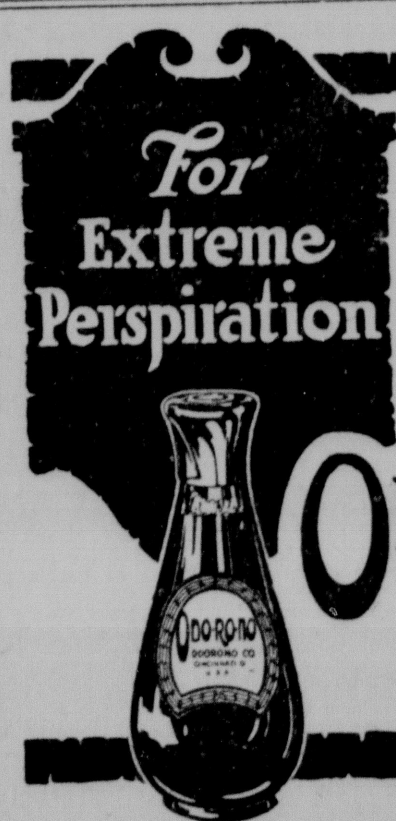

To dainty women and particular men, Odo-ro-no is most necessary.

Why? Because it gives complete relief from extreme perspiration of the armpits, feet, hands or neck—a condition that has caused them—and you?—so much annoyance and discomfort.

Two applications a week of Odo-ro-no will keep these parts comfortably and naturally dry and absolutely odorless. Dress shields become unnecessary. Daily baths do not lessen the effect. Harmless—easily applied. Get your bottle of

Lorn Soldier To His Mother

The following extracts are from a letter to "Mother," and the rather pessimistic tone is to be pardoned by those who are sitting under electric fans and sipping cooling drinks.

"We have coffee all the time and ice tea on Sunday, but I've never seen a glass of milk. We are getting plenty of beans and meat, and that's what a fellow needs that has to drill as hard as we do. I'm so tired at night that I could sleep on a barbed wire fence. I had a sandstorm Sunday night. Sand covered coats, blankets and boys with a thick layer, and we had to dig ourselves out the next morning. My eyes, ears and mouth were all full of sand."

"We were inspected by General Hulen and General Parker this morning, all dressed up in their fine uniforms. General Hulen told me I was the only one that had his first aid package in regulation style."

"I washed my socks and underwear this morning. Write soon and eat lots of buttered biscuits for me, for I haven't seen any butter since I left home."

Certain-teed People Have Had Faith in Coming Prosperity

Local evidence is not lacking that the industries of this country, large and small, are humming with business. It is patent to any observer that the merchants of Waco are increasingly busy, and every day brings visitors who advise this office of healthy activity in every quarter and in many lines remotely or not at all affected by European war orders.

Such a visitor was C. L. Saylor of Houston, whose house, the General Roofing Manufacturing company, makers of Certain-teed roofing, wall board, etc., is having the biggest business in its history. "Our trouble is not in getting orders, but in shipping those we have," is Mr. Saylor's succinct comment. "Orders are the heaviest in our history, and the good part is that no let-up is in sight," said Mr. Saylor.

But it is only justice to say that better conditions generally are only Submission will go on the ticket, and a battle royal is on. In the last contest, the anti-won-according to the adding machine—by only a scanty six thousand. Since then, the drift in south and southwest Texas has been toward prohibition. The Mexican cohorts are somewhat demoralized, and the forces which stand for social progress are aggressive all along the line. Our prediction is that prohibition will carry by a substantial majority, and that better days are ahead for Texas.

The Russian drive against the Austrians, reinforced by a resumption of a violent attack by the Italians all along the Trentino border, are evidently intended to force a withdrawal of German troops on the western battle front for the relief of their allies. There are reasons to believe that the home-stretch has been reached in the war, and every nation engaged is about to put forth its best efforts.

The Supreme court of the United States upholds the referendum system of Ohio against the charge that it tends to destroy a republican system of government. That puts a judicial quietus on one of the most pretentious grounds of opposition to direct legislation by the people. Mr. Bailey again finds himself high and dry, on one of his favorite constitutional "pints."

Houston gets the democratic state nominating convention. This reminds us that Judge Kittrell once explained his course with respect to a notable proceeding at Houston by saying, in a speech before an executive committee meeting at Austin, that there was something explosive in the Houston atmosphere. We trust the Houston police will look out for the explosives.

George Boeschstein, a leading German of St. Louis, describes Candidate Hughes as "Mr. Facing Both Ways." The average German is always positive in his views, and a fence-riider is not apt to look good to him.

When the Colonel announced that he is out of politics, he went to unnecessary trouble to describe a condition that speaks eloquently for itself.

Victor Murdock and associates of his type will think several times before they decide to let the republican tail wag the progressive dog.

"You know she's a widow woman and lives—"

"Oh, Jasper!"

"Eh! What is it?" Jasper Dunham asked, looking into the face of the girl who shared the road wagon seat with him.

Margaret caught her breath. It might hurt him, but what he had just said hurt her. Would it do any good? She looked reflectively along the country road that stretched away in front of them.

Over it the maples, brave in their green liveliness of early summer, threw long, cool shadows. Her silence was so long continued that Jasper repeated, this time a little sharply:

"What is it?"

"Did you ever hear of a widow who was not a woman?"

"What an idea! I don't get it."

"Oh, please do not say 'it'." And the other is such a colloquialism! If you say a woman is a widow, that's enough."

Jasper drew up on the lines until his spirited bays reared. When he quieted them he asked, "What is a colloquialism? I didn't get it."

Briefly, Margaret explained. "To use good English, Jasper, means so much."

It's the mark of a gentleman. Strangers judge us by our language."

"See here, Margaret. Before you went away to college I talked good 'nough for you," he blurted.

The girl's eyes met his; she was conscientiously honest, even with herself.

"It always annoyed me a little, but I had heard people talk in that way all my life. Not until I went to Girton did I come to see just what such things mean," she said.

"I wish you'd never gone. You see, I didn't so much mind waiting, 'cause I planned to fix up the farm so it'd be good 'nough home for you. But them two years spied you. I wish you'd never gone."

The retention of the wish made Margaret forget the grammatical lapses that had preceded it. Never seen Girton! Never come in contact with that scholar-

by, progressive phase of life which she had determined should dominate her future! Even if she did teach a primary grade in a village school, Margaret had resolved that not only her own life but all lives that touched hers, should be sweeter and stronger because of those two years at Girton!

Announcement of the program for the annual meeting of the Texas Bar Association, to be held July 3, 4 and 5, in Galveston, has been made by the board of directors, of which C. K. Lee, of Fort Worth is chairman. Amid the cool gulf breezes in the convention hall of the Hotel Galvez the ardor of debate will be cooled by the refreshing ozone from the sea.

Representatives of the Texas Public Weighers' association began their third annual session Monday in Temple. The address of welcome and the address of response by President Nix of the association. An address by V. C. Lawson of Dallas, president of the Cotton Buyers' association; a general discussion of the legislation under consideration; the election of officers and the selection of the next meeting place.

Miss Mabel McKay, daughter of Secretary of State John G. McKay, successfully underwent an operation at hospital Monday in Austin. Her early recovery is expected.

Secretaries Johnson of the Retail Merchants' association, Harris of the commercial club and Edwards of the Rotary club of Corpus Christi have completed all arrangements for entertaining 300 or more Texas merchants who are to spend next Friday in Corpus Christi.

The Houston Dairy Loan Fund association has engaged its field manager, C. T. Axtell, of Fort Worth, the selection having been made after considering a number of applicants. Members of the association consider themselves fortunate in the choice of Mr. Axtell, and believe that he will be of material assistance in their efforts to advance the dairying branch of farming. Among the duties which will be required of the field manager is the inspection of cattle, which the association intends buying, with reference to diseases, the approximate amount of butter which will be yielded, and other scientific matters relating to dairy cows. The field man must also negotiate with farmers desiring loans. The association recently completed the subscription of a $100,000 fund to be loaned to farmers in encouragement of the dairying industry.

Five Mexicans, armed with rifles, were conducted an invasion of Texas yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the vicinity of the city disposal plant, El Paso. All the men were wearing civilian clothes and for this reason it could not be ascertained whether they were members of any military faction of Mexico. The invaders succeeded in firing several shots aimed at the disposal plant, but were driven back by the police. After the shots were fired the Mexicans turned to go back to their native soil. One of them drew a red handkerchief and waved it forth in an insulting manner at the unarmed American citizens who were watching them.

The scholastic population of Jefferson county is 12,376, as announced by H. C. Daniel of Port Arthur, county superintendent of education, following a report made to him of the total scholastics of Port Arthur independent school district. The report showed 3,183 scholastics in Port Arthur, an increase of 911 over last year when the scholastics were 2,272 in that city.

Henry Paggio, prominent lumber expert of Gulfport, Miss., who several months ago established his office in Austin, has been ordered to ship from that port, last Friday closed contracts with F. Walls, local shipbuilder, for the construction of two large vessels. One will be a duplicate of the five-masted schooner now being built for Mr. Paggio in the Orange yards. The other will be a four-masted schooner, slightly smaller.

Jim Edens Killed by Son.
Terrell, June 13.—Jim Edens, 62, residing near Lawrence, is dead from a pistol wound and Fred Edens, 25, his son, is under arrest. The shooting took place last night, the father dying from a wound in the stomach. The shooting is said to have resulted from a quarrel.

The silence endured so long that Jasper thought the victory was his. With a superior smile he said, "It doesn't matter. Why could he not have said 'dozen'?" Margaret's brown eyes flashed. "It does matter to me and to all who care for really good things," she declared. "And if you cared for me, Jasper, you'd try to please me, especially when I'm wholly in the right. Why, I would be ashamed to have Prof. Larned hear you talk—sometimes."

That last word was added almost desperately when she saw the color fade from Jasper's face. Before he could utter a word she was at the gate of the village home where Margaret boarded. A half dozen young men and girls who were sitting on the veranda came trooping down the steps, laughing, down the talking, making plans for the evening.

Those plans were so well carried out that Jasper had no opportunity for further words with his betrothed. Even when, several hours later, he bade her good night, Alice Mear stood only a few feet away, waiting for Jasper to join her.

"Shamed to have that professor hear me talk!" Jasper said to himself as he rode home under the palm stars. "He could do no better, but he hasn't got to stand it to be nagged all the time."

At that same hour, Margaret was crying softly, her head on the window sill. To a young life blushing for a husband's mistakes, ashamed to have people hear him talk—could she do it? She held fast to her own ideals. If she were Jasper's wife! In the years to come, if children should be theirs, how could she teach them aright if her teaching plainly put their father in the wrong?

For three days, she pondered those questions. Then she did two things—she promised the school board that she would teach another year and she wrote a note which ran:

"Dear Jasper:
"There has been no change in my feelings. I love you, but I cannot be happy with a man who discards the things I hold essential. Therefore I must take back my promise to be your wife."
"Sincerely yours,"

"MARGARET."
Jasper made no reply to the note, no effort to see Margaret. A month went by. The cessation of his visits proved to their friends that the engagement had been broken. He began to hear rumors of the many letters she was receiving from one of the Girton college professors. When on overlooking Jane Harris, priding along in the rain, Jasper took

BUILDING ACTIVITY

AND ALLEN SANITARIUM
ALMOST DONE.Congressional Candidate Draws Small
Crowd When He Speaks—Revival
Grows in Interest.

Marlin, June 13.—Building activity in Marlin is looking upwards and plans for several new improvements are being prepared.

Work is now progressing rapidly on the new Allen $25,000 sanitarium, being constructed opposite the Arlington hotel, and the foundation for the new Catholic church has been completed.

Hon. John D. Robinson, the Bell county congressional candidate, drew a small crowd when he spoke in Marlin last night. It was estimated that less than one hundred were out.

The Methodist revival conducted by Evangelist W. M. McIntosh of Lufkin, Miss., is growing in interest and in addition to the two services daily, the prayer meetings in the afternoon and preliminary to the regular service at night, a service on the streets in the business center of the city in the afternoon has been inaugurated.

A number of Marlin people left this morning for the Agricultural and Mechanical college to attend the closing exercises of the school.

Miss Lucile Peacock left yesterday for Waco to attend the Baylor summer normal.

A large delegation from Marlin expected to leave Wednesday morning for Ennis to see the final game in the series being played by Marlin and Ennis teams. The day has been designated Flag Day by Ennis Elks and Ennis is expected to be there and enjoy a good time. The Marlin fans will have a special train for their accommodation, leaving here at 8 o'clock.

Misses Kate and Mamie Conter Keesee, Mary Alice Oakes, Bernice Fannin and Hazel Marguerite Peabody are attending summer school at Baylor university in Waco.

The following Waco people are registered at local hotels: C. L. McDonald, George Irwin, Geo. W. Irwin, Jr., C. C. Irwin, D. E. McGlasson and Mrs. Hollis Barron.

Texas Industrial Traffic League Is Now Organized
Austin, June 13.—Organization of the Texas Industrial Traffic league was effected today. Officers elected were: president, G. S. Maxwell, Dallas; first vice president, H. H. Haines, Galveston; second vice president, Ed Byers, Fort Worth; third vice president, J. S. Pawlett, San Antonio; secretary, Charles A. Bland, Beaumont; treasurer, J. A. Morgan, Houston; directors, Messrs. Maxwell, Pawlett, Haines, Byers, Morgan, F. E. Hottel, of Texas, Kansas, W. Keos, of El Paso; E. O. Fulton, Houston; H. D. Driscoll, Waco, and H. S. L. Hommedieu of Orange.

The constitution committee, composed of Messrs. Driscoll, Fulton and Pawlett, will meet in Austin on July 10. The purpose of the organization is to handle all rate matters affecting Texas, state or interstate, and to operate with the interstate commission and the carriers in adjusting rates satisfactory to this state.

John Holub Hangs Himself With Waist Belt at West
West, June 13.—John Holub, farmer, hanged himself in the calaboose here last night. An ordinary waist belt was used, and the man evidently was dead some time when the body was discovered by Night Marshal W. O. Lee. Holub lived at Penelope, twenty-five miles north of Waco. He had a wife and several children.

At home, the story was repeated to Margaret so many times that she became convinced that it was a matter of daily occurrence.

The Grange picnic came early in July. For years Jasper had taken Margaret. "I'll not go this time," he decided. "Everybody would look at me and smile, even if they did not say anything. I'll work in the harvest field."

He found his task a wearisome one. Recollections of past joys crowded on him. Suddenly he strayed off, resolving to go to the farm wood lot. It was there, in the shadow of a grove of birches that grew on the bank of a stream, that he had told Margaret of his love. There had been dead wood on his face and his acts had proclaimed his devotion, yet the telling and her response had been wondrously sweet. Since that day, under the birches had been a shrine to him.

"She never loved me, though," he thought, as, entering the dim, cool woods, he slackened his pace. "If I really loved her, how I talked wouldn't it have made a difference."

Just then he came in sight of the birches and Margaret, seated on the ground, her dark head leaning against a tree's trunk. A breeze stirred the branches, and the waving mosaic of light and shade that fell across her face showed that she had been crying. As if, in some vague way, aware of his presence, she lifted her eyes, and their gaze met.

It was but a moment that each looked into the other's face. Yet the fragments of time were strong enough to enable each of them to glance ahead, seeing dimly what the future might hold for them estranged.

"Life devoted to an ideal might be noble and inspiring, but it would be desolate," Margaret said to herself. "Split infinitives, plural subjects with a single verb, even with a man—why, there's nothing compared to a lonely life, and Jane Harris, smiling, because she has won him. I'll be proud of his real worth and think of the other as little as I can."

As for Jasper, he compressed his lips. "It doesn't matter. Or should I say 'doesn't'?" I'm blamed if I can tell, but maybe I can learn. It's sure I have to be nagged all my life, but seem as how she will be the nagger. I'll make no fuss. And that college refeller might as well know he hasn't it."

Texas University Law Association Closes Session
Austin, June 13.—With the adoption of a resolution providing for the appointment of a committee of the University of Texas Law association to work with a similar committee of the Texas Bar association and a committee to be chosen by Governor Ferguson and Chief Justice Nelson Phillips of the supreme court in the consideration of all suggestions and proposals that have been advanced for judicial reform, either constitutional or statutory, the University of Texas Law association closed its sessions today. The committee of the association will be composed of five members, headed by W. H. Kimbrough of Amarillo, president of the association. The other members have not yet been selected.

Mart Oak Point Masons Elect Officers for Year
Mart, June 13.—At the regular meeting of the Mart Oak Point Masons the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Francis Upchurch, worshipful master; J. M. Reading, senior warden; H. E. Meyer, junior warden; Charles A. Bland, secretary; R. H. Swain, treasurer; C. N. Harden, ulster; B. B. Trimble, senior deacon; J. C. Rogers, junior deacon.

T. M. Wilson and family left this morning in his new seven-passenger Chalmers car for an overland trip to Oklahoma.

A grammar school was opened yesterday at the high school building under L. K. Stephens. Miss Lois Smith will begin next Monday.

Governor Grants More Emancipation Day Pardons
Austin, Tex., June 13.—Six additional nineteenth of June pardons were granted today by Acting Governor Hobbs. Governor Ferguson had granted ninety-three before he left for the national democratic convention at St. Louis. This completes the list of pardons to be issued for June 19. Acting Governor Hobbs became the chief executive of Texas this morning. Governor Ferguson crossed the state line last night.

William H. Earle of Waco Graduates at the University
Austin, June 13.—William H. Earle, a blind student of Waco, was among the seventy-six students of the University of Texas who took the degree of bachelor of law. Mr. Earle ranked high in his class during three years in the law department, and has served on the students' and athletic councils.

Price Supplies on Increase.
Austin, June 13.—An increase in prices of approximately 33 per cent average on supplies for the state is anticipated by the state purchasing agent. The increase is due to a rise in prices, making necessary an expenditure of approximately $1,750,000, is attributable to the war-time prices, increased freight rates, refusal of the state to promise delivery of a large quantity of drugs, medicine and metal supplies. Bids will be opened on Saturday for state supplies. Twenty-one institutions receive their supplies through this source.

Taber Appointed by Hobbs.
Austin, June 13.—Acting Governor Hobbs today appointed Dr. M. E. Taber of Dallas to represent the state for the department as a delegate to the annual meeting of the American Medical association at Detroit, Mich.

United States "Balanced" Tires

One of the Five is Yours

No one tire will fit every motoring need of use and price.

That is why the United States Tire Company makes five tires—

'Nobby,' 'Chain,' 'Usco,' 'Royal Cord,' and 'Plain.'

Each will give from a little to a whole lot more mileage than other tires in its class.

Motorists buy, and re-buy, United States 'Balanced' Tires, because of—what?

Service—satisfactory service—mileage—value—least amount of trouble.

That's the reason that United States 'Balanced' Tires show such steady, consistent sales increases.

Ask the nearest United States Tire Dealer for your copy of the booklet, "Judging Tires," which tells how to find the particular tire to suit your needs.

College Station, June 13.—The fourth year of the Agricultural and Mechanical college, in every respect the best year in its history, came to a close today with the presentation of diplomas to 117 men and certificates to thirty-one cadets. Service was the keynote of today's exercises, and every speaker at the morning session emphasized the need for intelligent and unselfish service on the part of the college graduate and especially those who are the beneficiaries of the state.

The commencement address was delivered by President Raymond A. Pearson of the Iowa state Agricultural and Mechanical college. T. K. Morris of Valley Mills, captain of the band, was the valedictorian for the senior class and Judge John I. Guion of Ballinger, president of the board, presented the diplomas.

Graduating dress parade and the final ball tonight closed the program and special trains conveyed most of the students to their homes.

The board of directors today is in session, transacting routine matters. Judge Guion, L. J. Hart of San Antonio, W. A. Miller, Jr., of Amarillo, J. R. Kubena of Fayetteville, and E. H. Astin of Bryan are present.

Clarence K. McGoun Given Ten Years in Penitentiary
Dallas, June 13.—Clarence K. McGoun, formerly deputy clerk in the city tax collector's office, charged with embezzlement of city funds amounting to approximately $15,000, and who recently was arrested as he disembarked from a steamer at Montevideo and was brought back to this city, today was sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary upon his plea of guilty.

The embezzlements are said to have covered a period of two and a half years.

McGoun left Dallas last January, ostensibly on a vacation, and after the embezzlement charges were unearthed was located on the vessel by wireless here and eventually arrested.

Claude Trippe of Houston Dies With the British Army
Houston, Tex., June 11.—Information has been received here that Claude Trippe of Houston and Taylor, Tex., for twelve months a sapper in the British army in Flanders, was mortally wounded in action, dying in a military hospital. Trippe was a city fireman here and leaves his widow, who resides at Taylor.

Normal Board Meets.
Austin, June 13.—The annual meeting of the board of regents of the four state normal schools was held here today with President Sam Sparks presiding and all members of the board present except Joe Kendall of Dallas, who was absent on a business trip.

The meeting was devoted principally to routine business. The reports of the presidents of the various normals showed that the session just closed was the best in the history of the schools. The faculty for next year is practically the same as the year just ended.

Taber Appointed by Hobbs.
Austin, June 13.—Acting Governor Hobbs today appointed Dr. M. E. Taber of Dallas to represent the state for the department as a delegate to the annual meeting of the American Medical association at Detroit, Mich.

Eastern Jeweler Says Precious Stones Are Getting Very Scarce
Last Saturday and Sunday Waco was the host of one of New York City's best jewelers, Mr. Deane Weinberg, Texas on a special trip, meeting the many jewelers in their respective cities, stopped over at Waco. Mr. Weinberg reports conditions good with prospects encouraging for all business, as the outlook at the present time throughout the different sections of the state is most promising for a bumper crop.

In speaking of the European diamond markets, Mr. Weinberg remarked that regardless of the increase in value of diamonds and other precious stones, the diamond can not be kept up with, as good, clean, desirable goods are fast becoming scarce, and unless the war is soon brought to a finish, pearls here and other precious stones will be at a premium. The result will be that the demand will be greater than the source of supply.

Mr. Weinberg is very well known throughout the east and south and is recognized as an authority upon this subject.

Mr. Weinberg is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Al Marks of this city.

Several boxes of "cats" magazines and books were shipped free of charge by the Wells Fargo Express company last night to the soldiers on the border. The concentration points that were arranged by the public and a great number of packages were taken advantage of by the public and a great number of packages were brought to the different points. Sanger Brothers received twenty packages yesterday, most of them being edibles, though many books were sent, it seeming to be the opinion of the soldiers that food for thought as well as for their stomachs.

Goldstein-Migel company received many packs, as did the Farnams, and had been collecting prior to the new arrangement. Freund's main store also collected some parcels that were shipped last night, which included cakes and candy.

It is expected that by the time the new arrangement is known by all, the shipments that will be made twice a week will be very large. The shipments will be made free of charge by the Wells Fargo company on every Tuesday and Saturday night at 8 o'clock. The shipments will arrive at Pharr on the second day following at midday, in time for dessert. The name of the person to whom they are sent should be plainly written on the package so that no mistake shall be made in the delivery, and should include the company and regiment number, as an aid in rapid distribution. The cakes that are baked on a Tuesday afternoon will arrive nearly warm if they are very hot and in the best of condition, provided that they are well packed and wrapped.

It is advised that candies, cakes, pies and love novels that might become mashed in handling be placed in boxes of sufficient strength to protect them from the weight that will be thrown on them in the handling.

Suffered For Years

There are many people who will be interested in the experience of Mrs. Julia Byard, Fort Benton, Mont. She writes:

"I suffered for years with gall-stones. A friend wrote me about Fruitola and Traxo. I started taking it and am completely cured now and feel better than I have felt for twenty years."

Mrs. Byard's testimony is similar to that of many who have given this remedy a chance to help them. Fruitola is a powerful lubricant for the intestinal organs, softening the hardened particles that cause so much suffering and expelling the congested waste in an easy, natural way. A single dose is usually sufficient to clearly indicate its efficacy. Traxo is a splendid tonic-alterative that acts on the liver and kidneys, stimulates the flow of gastric juices to aid digestion, and removes bile from the general circulation.

Fruitola and Traxo are prepared in the Pinus laboratories at Monticello, Ill., and arrangements have been made to supply them through representative druggists. In Waco they can be obtained at W. B. Morrison's Drug Co.

GOVERNMENT USING RATS PAINTED AS EXPERIMENT

If you should happen to see a red, green, yellow, blue or pink rat scurry across your cellar or attic floor, don't pinch yourself to see if it is a dream. Such a sight does not necessarily mean that there is something wrong with you because there are a number of these colored rodents now running around in various parts of the United States.

The United States government, feeling perhaps that it was high time that its citizens knew the full extent of the rat danger, has hired several scientific experts to give them an object lesson. The experts painted a number of rats for identification and set them free in various parts of the country just to show how far a rat will travel and carry disease.

One big fact that has been already learned about rats and that is most important to the average citizen is that rats are attracted by the shining of phosphorus in the dark, and that this is why they have the habit of gnawing matches. Thousands of destructive fires are said to have been caused this way.

As a carrier of diseases of most deadly nature the rat is classed among man's most dangerous enemies. Some of the larger cities are spending thousands of dollars to exterminate the rat and the results are easily seen in the decrease in deaths from contagious diseases.

The rat is also an expensive boarder to maintain as it has been definitely shown that a single rat cannot exist under at least a cent a day. That means that every rat on your premises is costing you a cent every day. This does not include damages to buildings, furniture, etc.

Many solutions of the rat question have already been suggested but perhaps the best and most effective manner of getting rid of this pest is by poison.

Killing rats has been reduced to an exact science. Rat poison in the form of powders are claimed to be almost as dangerous as the rats themselves, as the slightest draft may waft the poison through the rooms and allow it to settle in the food.

Perhaps the best method of administering poison to rats is in the form of a paste. One of the best known pastes is doubly efficacious because it also destroys cockroaches and water-bugs. It is probably the safest method of insuring the health and safety of the household. Citizens everywhere should join in a rat crusade by getting a 25 cent box of rat paste from their dealer and using it during the house-cleaning season.

CALOMEL WHEN BILIOUS? NO! STOP! ACTS LIKE DYNAMITE ON LIVER

I Guarantee "Dodson's Liver Tone" Will Give You the Best Liver and Bowel Cleansing You Ever Had.

Stop using calomel! It makes you sick. Don't lose a day's work. If you feel lazy, sluggish, bilious or constipated, listen to me! Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel, when it comes into contact with your bile crashes into it, breaking it up. This is when you feel that awful nausea and cramping. If you are "all knocked out," if your liver is torpid and bowels constipated or you have headache, dizziness, coated tongue, if breath is bad or stomach sour, just try a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone.

Here's my guarantee—Go to any drug store and get a 50 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone. Take a spoonful tonight and if it doesn't straighten you right up and make you feel fine and vigorous by morning, I want you to go back to the store and get your money. Dodson's Liver Tone is destroying the sale of calomel because it is real liver medicine; entirely vegetable, therefore it can not salivate or make you sick.

I guarantee that one spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone will put your sluggish liver to work and clean your bowels of that sour bile and constipated waste which is clogging your system and making you feel miserable. I guarantee that a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone will keep your entire family feeling fine for months. Give it to your children. It is harmless; doesn't gripe and they like its pleasant taste.

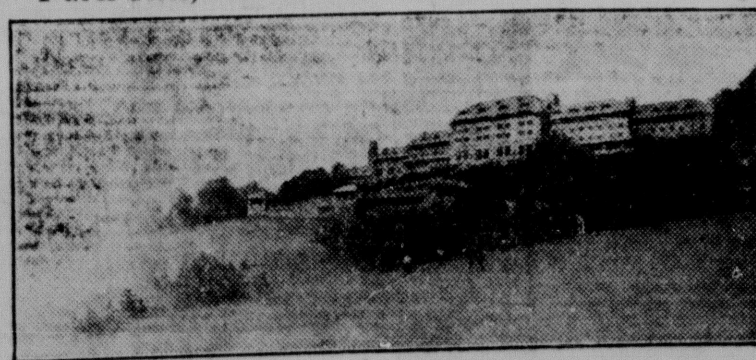

Cool—no mosquitos. Grove Park Inn Sunset Mountain, Asheville, N. C.—the finest Resort Hotel in the World. It is absolutely fireproof and open all the year.

The 120-acre, 18-hole, golf course is the finest in the South—it is a blue grass course. All the water used at the Inn comes from the slopes of Mount Mitchell, the highest mountain east of the Rockies, nearly seven thousand feet altitude. The milk and cream come from Biltmore Dairy on the estate of the late Geo. W. Vanderbilt.

It is the cleanest, most sanitary hotel ever built. Every floor is tile. Every bedroom has Mosaic tile covered with French rugs made at Aubusson, France. The foods are the finest money can buy. The kitchen is spotless white tile to the roof and pure white Mosaic tile floors. The buildings are built of great mountain boulders—some of the walls are five feet thick.

We are three and a half miles from the railroad. The street cars are not allowed to come near enough to be heard. We burn coke—not soft coal. Automobiles not allowed near the building during the night. Thus we have no smoke, no dust, no train noise. We have pure air, common-sense, digestible food, quiet in the bedrooms at night, the finest Orchestra outside of New York and Boston, a great organ, and an atmosphere where refined people and busy business men with their families find great comfort and a good time.

THIS IS FLAG DAY THROUGHOUT U. S.

Today is Flag Day—one of the youngest holidays of the national anniversaries, and its annals are as yet meager in general history. Its first official recognition was by the order of the governor of New York, who gave orders that on June 14, 1897, the national flag should fly over all the public buildings in the state. This day was chosen because on this day 117 years before, the flag of the union was formally adopted by congress in the resolution: "Resolved, that the flag of the thirteen United States be thirteen stripes, alternate white and red; that on the union flag be thirteen stars, white on a blue field, representing a new constellation."

In 1897 the Philadelphians also observed the new holiday and during the years that followed the custom has rapidly spread. Today with few exceptions the day is observed in the schools, and H. G. Wells said that an American Flag day was the most touching sight that he has seen in America.

The committee that chose the flag was headed by the childless father of 100,000 people—George Washington. It stands for a united people, and when it waves aloft it is one to us, whether the hand plays "Yankee Doodle" or "Dixie." The observance of Flag day is calculated to promote patriotism by keeping alive the traditions of our fathers, and will elevate our citizenship in the present and future by lighting up its exalted quality of the past.

Old Glory is one of the oldest flags in the world, being adopted previous to that of the present flags of France, Germany, Great Britain, Portugal, Italy or Spain.

Dutch-Bataille Makes 600-mile Auto Drive From Camp Pharr

Skirting the Rio Grande country from Pharr, the encampment of the Waco military companies, to Laredo, L. G. (Dutch) Bataille of Waco arrived in Waco yesterday in the auto driven by Corporal Wesley Downs of company G, which the officer wished returned home. Mr. Bataille covered the 600-mile drive in two days and part of one night. He said that the border country was very rough driving, but roads were, all right after he left San Antonio coming this way. He left Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Bataille said that most of the boys were pretty well satisfied with their condition and seemed to be fairly well content to remain at Pharr until something happened in the way of a change of location or return home. He reported one case of mumps in camp, and said that the food was wholesome and ample.

ATTEMPTS BEING MADE TO GET SOKOLS FOR PALACE

Victor Bunata is Urging Bohemian Athletic Teams to Attend Exposition.

In a most commendable effort to secure the attendance of the Bohemian Sokols at the Cotton Palace next fall, Deputy County Clerk Victor Bunata has returned from Ennis and Waxahatchie, where he took up with the Sokols the matter of attending the great fall exposition here.

His mission was most encouraging, and it is believed that the Sokols will come in a picked bunch. The Sokols are an athletic organization among the Bohemians, and there is a live association there. There will be two big tournaments of the Sokols in the state the last of the summer, one at Dallas and the other at Houston, the chances being that the winners in each of these contests will come to Waco for the Sokols division at Waco, and all those north of here will attend the Dallas tournament, while those south will go to Houston.

The efforts made by Deputy County Clerk Bunata are very much appreciated by the Cotton Palace management and will be by the public at large, and the Sokols will prove quite a feature of Bohemian Day at the Cotton Palace if they come, as it is expected that they will.

Executive Committee of Fair Association Will Meet Here

The executive committee of the Texas Federation of Fairs will meet here next Friday morning in the Chamber of Commerce rooms. It will be the duty of the committee to select a new date for the annual meeting and to arrange a program for that time.

The meeting was postponed until Friday. Members of the committee are S. N. Mayfield of Waco, who is also president of the federation; H. G. Taylor of Hillsboro and Mr. McKenzie of Temple.

Spring Street Church Festival Thursday

The women of the Spring Street Baptist church will serve ice cream and cake Thursday evening and many candidates of the county will take advantage of the occasion to work off their political oratory. The ice cream festival will be held on the lawn of the church at Sixth and Spring streets, in the Kirkpatrick addition, commencing at 8 o'clock. A general invitation is extended.

The following are some of the speakers: Judge Geo. N. Denton, E. C. Street, Frank E. Tiley, Geo. W. Tiley, John B. McNamara, Sheriff Fleming, Bob Buchanan, W. J. Barcus, John Baker, and all other candidates who may come will be recognized.

Pair of Shoes Causes Salvo of Shots

Because the white woman for whom she worked gave her a pair of slippers and the irate negro husband feared that another dusky gallant had given her the same, a shooting war ensued. The particular trouble comprised several shots from a big .44 revolver in the hands of the husband, directed at the suspected woman. Mayor's Office Officer Alva Tiley, who answered the police call, says that the negro who was the target of the shots admitted "dat he shore did run, and made no monkey business about it." The shooting took place on Columbus street yesterday, but no arrests had been made last night. None of the shots took effect.

SEM NIX RE-ELECTED HEAD PUBLIC WEIGHERS OF STATE

Temple Meeting Hears Note of Cheer on Crop Prospects—Abilene Gets Convention.

That the crops in Texas, both cotton and the feed crops, are in excellent condition, while it was normal in time and excellent in prospects in west Texas, President Sem Nix of this city called the association together Monday and the sessions lasted until yesterday afternoon. Adoption of the constitution and by-laws and the consideration of officers' reports were among the routine business.

President Nix was re-elected as president for the coming year and O. K. Jacobs of Temple was again chosen as secretary. Abilene was selected for the 1917 meeting. Galveston put in a bid for the next convention, but the west Texas town carried the day.

W. C. Lawson of Waco was principal speaker for the two-days' program.

A Real Flesh Builder For Thin People

Thin men and women—that big heart, filling dinner you ate last night. What became of all the fat-producing nourishment it contained? You haven't gained weight one ounce. That food passed from your body like unburned coal through an open grate. The material was there, but your food doesn't work and stick, and the plain truth is you hardly get enough nourishment from your meals to pay for the cost of cooking. This is true of thin folks the world over. Your nutritive organs, your functions of assimilation, are probably badly out of gear and need reconstruction.

Cut out the foolish foods and funny sawdust diets. Cut out everything but the meals you are eating and eat with every one of those single Sargol tablets. In two weeks note the difference. Let the scales be the judge. Five to eight good solid pounds of healthy "stay there" fat may be the net result. Sargol aims to charge waste, stagnant blood with millions of fresh new red blood corpuscles—to give the blood the carrying power to deliver every ounce of fat-making material in your food to every part of your body. Sargol, too, mixes with your food, to prepare it for the blood in an easily assimilated form. Thin people tell how they have gained all the way from 10 to 25 pounds a month while taking Sargol and say that the new flesh stays put. Sargol tablets are a careful combination of six of the best assimilative elements known to chemistry. They come 40 tablets to a package, are pleasant, harmless and inexpensive and Powers-Kelly Drug Co. and all other good druggists in this vicinity sell them subject to an absolute guarantee of weight increase or money back as found in every large package.

BOY SCOUTS MAY BE THOUSANDS OF MEN OF PRACTICAL USE NEEDED FOR KANSAS- IN SERVING CITIES OKLAHOMA HARVEST

In a statement regarding the work done by the Boy Scouts of Waco, T. E. Hubby expresses the opinion that the people here are not making use of the splendid opportunity they have to secure the benefits of Scout activity, and also push the Waco Scouts to the front.

He thinks that the Scouts can and will serve the city in various ways which will benefit the entire citizenship, and that the boys are willing and anxious for this chance. Mr. Hubby calls attention to the fact that the Waco organization ranks with the largest in the country and is ahead of any city of the same size. He sends a clipping from Scouting, the great Scout paper, showing how the organizations of boys are employed in other cities, and suggests that Waco should get busy along the same line.

In looking over the clippings from Scouting it was found that the Boy Scouts had been employed in Hartford, Conn., in a great clean-up campaign; at the recent National Confederate reunion at Birmingham, in aiding the veterans in getting to their stopping places, getting them to emergency hospitals when sick, etc.; in systematizing and making bigger and better the great "preparedness" parade in New York recently, and many other examples and illustrations of usefulness of the Boy Scouts.

What Mr. Hubby suggests is that the Scout movement in Waco should take on a broader and still more useful phase, the public sharing in the good results which are believed to be attainable.

City Will Soon Make Its Annual Purchase of Feed Stuffs

The city is soon to make its regular "buy" of feed for the city corral and fire department horses, and this is always a job of importance and one requiring much care and the exercise of the best judgment.

Commissioner Ben Richards will buy the feed for the fire department horses and expects to put away about 2250 bushels of oats. More oats than this were bought last year, but a considerable lot was left over, so less will be secured this time.

The city corral will require more oats, as there are many horses there, and Street Commissioner J. F. Stampf will do most of this buying of oats. By purchasing when oats are coming in from the fields this feed can be bought for much less than at a later date. Last year oats could have been bought for 35 cents at harvesting time, but later the price advanced sharply, and this is nearly always the case, making it advisable to buy at the time oats are coming in most freely and before they are housed.

Father Baylor Pianist Has Passed Away

Prof. Fred Eggert of Baylor university has suffered a great bereavement in the recent death of his father. Mr. Eggert, for several years head of the vocal department of music in Baylor university, is widely known in Waco, and the sincere sympathy of his many friends has been extended him in his great sorrow.

The following notice appeared in the Gloucester Democrat:

Frederick J. H. Eggert of Ewan died last Wednesday morning, May 31st, aged 68 years, after about two weeks' illness. At first there appeared every hope for his ultimate recovery, but as time rolled on he grew rapidly worse until death relieved him of his terrible suffering. Mr. Eggert's life up to the time that he retired from active business and purchased a property at Ewan, was spent at Jersey City. He was a man of beautiful Christian character, and was one of the original members and also stewards of the Salem Evangelical church at Jersey City, faithfully performing the duties of a Sunday school superintendent for thirty-three years in the above church.

The sixty-eight years of his life had been filled with useful and kind deeds. He was music loving, cheerful, and in his disposition and friendly to all. During the four or more years that he had resided in Ewan he had made many friends. His advice had a strong hold upon many people, and his influence will be felt long after his body has crumbled to dust. The funeral services were held at the Ewan church on Saturday afternoon, and were largely attended. The casket was surrounded by handsome flowers. Rev. F. A. Howell preached a comforting sermon from Psalms 37:37: "Mark the perfect man and behold the upright for the end of that man is peace."

Prof. and Mrs. M. E. Cosgrove, Miss Lida Fox and Mrs. E. A. Howell sang three favorite hymns of the departed, "Nearer My God to Thee," "My Jesus, I Love Thee," and "Abide With Me."

The pallbearers were neighbors of the deceased, William Albert and George Eggert of Camden; Rev. Samuel Meister of Clarksville; William Ward of Camden; and Theo. Trendelburg of Jersey City. Mr. Eggert leaves a devoted wife, with whom he spent forty-two years of a happy married life, and three children, to mourn the loss of an indulgent husband and father. The children are: Mrs. Charles Emrich of Ewan; Prof. Fred E. Eggert, who is director of the vocal department of Baylor university, Waco, Texas; and Theo. Eggert, who resides with his parents at Ewan.

The pay for harvesters in Kansas and Oklahoma this season will range from $2 a day and board for the ordinary laborer to $7 a day and board to a man with a team, according to a letter received here from United States department of labor, bureau of immigration and information, of Washington, D. C.

It is estimated by the department that about 1,000 men will be needed by the farmers of Oklahoma this year to help in the harvest. The pay in the Panhandle and extreme northwestern part of the state will range from $2 to $3 a day and board, varying in the different communities. The letter urges all that are intending to work in the harvest in Oklahoma to communicate with W. G. Ashton, commissioner of labor, at Oklahoma City. Through him information concerning the condition of the grain and labor that will be needed can be secured by any who care to write, free of charge. It is the intention of the department to make arrangements so that all who get into communication with Mr. Ashton can be furnished with work upon their arrival. The letter advises all to have enough money to support them for at least one week after arrival in case of a failure to get employment immediately.

Kansas will need a great deal more than Oklahoma and the number is estimated by the department to be between 35,000 and 40,000 at the following wages a day: Ordinary hands $2 to $3, stackers $2.50 to $3, engineers $2.50 to $6, men with teams $4 to $7. All prices include board.

The harvest is now ripe in both Oklahoma and Kansas, and the work of cutting will begin next week, in both states, and will likely start the latter part of this week. No men, the letter emphasized, will be needed before the harvest begins.

Further and more definite information can be secured concerning the Kansas situation by writing to P. J. McBride, state commissioner of labor, at Topeka, Kan.

The decided demand is for English speaking white people, and of course are to be able-bodied. The expenses of the harvesters, including their railroad fares, will not be paid in advance, as has been done in previous years when labor has been more scarce.

C. L. Green, general inspector in charge of the distribution and employment of the laborers, and a representative of the United States department of labor, will be stationed during the harvesting season at 806 Grand avenue, Kansas City, Mo.

It is suggested in the letter that the harvest hands who can do so will be benefited by buying their tickets to the harvest fields via Kansas City with stop-over privileges for the purpose of calling on Mr. Green for further and newer information. These services will be furnished by the department free of charge.

Indiana Requires All Milk and Butter Fat to Be Pasteurized

"On and after July 1, 1916, the manufacture of butter from unpasteurized cream is prohibited. This order applies to all creameries and commercial dairies producing butter for general sale."

H. E. BARNARD,
State Food and Drug Commissioner of Indiana, April 1, 1916.

NOTICE GIVEN TO ICE CREAM MANUFACTURERS.

No food is more subject to contamination and spoilage than ice cream. The raw product is gathered under conditions which conceal the identity and which, in many instances, subject it to contamination.

Ice cream made from any material which is not of high quality is itself of low grade and unfit for food. The pasteurization of cream and ice cream stock makes the product safe.

"In the interest of public health and better business, you are hereby ordered to pasteurize all cream and stock used in the manufacture of ice cream and other frozen products."

Pasteurization shall be deemed to be heating to a temperature of at least 145 degrees F. for thirty minutes or 165 degrees F. for thirty seconds. The holding process is recommended.

This order shall take effect on and after July 1, 1916.

Deaf Mute Applies for Enlistment in Marine Corps

Marine Recruiting Officer J. A. Ronsch has received applications from persons of all ages, sizes, colors and conditions, but a new one was sprung on him yesterday morning when a deaf and dumb man came to put in his application. He walked up to Mr. Ronsch, wiggled three fingers and crossed a fourth, meaning that he wanted to talk about joining the marines.

After considerable wiggling and hand contortions, with no responsive gleam of understanding in the face of the officer, a piece of paper was produced and communication was established. The mute said, or rather wrote, that he was an expert shoe-maker and wanted to join the marines as a cobbler, but was told that his physical deficiencies would bar his entrance.

Discuss Plan to Care for County Sick at Providence Sanitarium

Representatives of Providence sanitarium yesterday discussed with the county commissioners the matter of providing a regular plan for looking after a certain part of the county sick at this institution each year, and the matter of having a certain per cent of the county taxation set aside each year systematically was discussed.

The city is now paying for a certain number of beds at the sanitarium, but there are a lot of cases originating outside of the city each year, these figures in the discussion yesterday. It was decided yesterday that probably the matter will be taken up again, when representatives of the city, county and the sanitarium can discuss it together.

How America's largest cigarette manufacturer accomplished "the Impossible" by producing a MILD cigarette that SATISFIES. It is the CHESTERFIELD Cigarette : : : : : :

ALMOST anybody can make a cup of coffee. But there are said to be not over a half-dozen restaurants in the United States where they know how to make it right.

Similarly, almost anyone can make a cigarette. Just roll up some tobacco in a piece of pure paper—and there you are.

There are, perhaps, over 800 brands of cigarettes sold in this country today. But not one of them does what Chesterfields do—for Chesterfields are MILD; and yet they SATISFY.

Some cigarettes may be mild, but they don't satisfy. Only one cigarette does BOTH—Chesterfield!

This truly unique cigarette has all of that refreshing taste-delicacy (or mildness) which any good cigarette must have. Yet, without sacrificing any of this delightful mildness, Chesterfields go one step further—they do more than merely "please your taste"—they let you know you've been smoking. They satisfy!

And yet they're mild!

A Step Forward in Cigarette-Making

WE are proud to be the firm that brought about this important development in cigarette enjoyment—for that is exactly what the Chesterfield brand is.

This cigarette is an outgrowth of long earnest effort on the part of this, the largest cigarette manufacturing concern in the United States.

The mild, yet satisfying Chesterfield blend is not the result of happy chance. It is one of the results of our many years of cigarette experience—of the heavy volume of our purchases of cigarette tobacco—of the prestige and advantage these enormous purchases give us in securing the choicest leaf from the tobacco fields of the world.

Chesterfields are an achievement.

A New Thing for a Cigarette to Do

CCHESTERFIELDS do the one thing you have always wished a cigarette would do—they satisfy!

Smoke them and we believe you will find that ordinary cigarettes seem by comparison almost flat.

Give Chesterfields a trial. We believe you will be glad to learn what they can teach you about cigarette enjoyment.

You have been reading here some rather unusual, almost daring, statements about a cigarette. If Chesterfields were an untried cigarette—if we had not been observing their behavior in other cities—if we did not KNOW that they make good with smokers, we could not afford to make these statements to you over our signature.

But these statements, strong as they are, can mean little or nothing to you until you have actually smoked your first Chesterfield.

You will find that your own dealer has Chesterfields waiting for you.

MARKETS

COTTON

New York, June 13.—The cotton market was lower again today under a comparatively small volume of offerings with October contracts selling down to 12.53, or about 17 points under the best prices reached on that bulge in July.

Liverpool was somewhat disappointing and the market here opened at a decline of 2 to 4 points under scattering local connections were moderate buyers early, suggesting a further reduction in the short straddle, but the selling was by no means aggressive.

Slight rallies occurred from time to time during the morning, but the market was indifferent and the market reached the lowest point in the late trading when July sold at 12.63, December at 12.39 and January at 13.06, or about 10 to 11 points net lower. The census figures showing domestic mill consumption of 618,000 bales, including linters, for the month of May against 540,000 for the same month last year, seemed to be about as expected and evidently created no fresh interest.

On the basis of figuring up a total consumption in this country for the season of about 7,400,000 bales, including linters and foreign-grown cotton.

New Orleans.

New Orleans, June 13.—Cotton felt the pressure throughout the session of the market here today. Some of the pressure was set down to liquidation, and the rest to short selling based on favorable crop accounts, the appearance of the second half of the new crop and the claim that many bales were being reported at a much earlier date than usual in both Mississippi and Texas.

On the first call of the day, steadyness was shown and October advanced a point above yesterday's close. In the early afternoon prices were at their lowest, 7 to 8 to 10 points down.

Bullish traders claimed too much rain was falling in some portions of the belt, especially in the Mississippi Valley, and the census bureau report on consumption by American mills for May was generally conceded to be bullish. The rise of 6 points in spot quotations excited favorable comment.

COTTON

New York, June 12.—The cotton market worked lower again today under a comparatively small volume of offerings with October contracts selling down to 12.85, or about 17 points under the best prices reached on the bulge of last Saturday. That delivery closed at 12.85 and the general level was steady at a net loss of 8 to 10 points for the day.

Liverpool was somewhat disappointing and the market here opened at a decline of 2 to 4 points under scattering liquidation.

Houses with Liverpool connections were moderate buyers early, suggesting a further reduction in the short straddle interest, but the selling was by no means aggressive.

Slight rallies occurred from time to time during the day on covering, but support was indifferent and the market reached the lowest point in the late trading when July sold at 12.65, December at 12.95 and January at 13.05, or about 10 to 11 points net lower.

The census figures showing domestic mill consumption of 618,000 bales, including linters, for the month of May against 440,000 for the same month last year, seemed to be about as expected and did not create any fresh interest.

On the basis of May consumption local statisticians are figuring upon a total consumption in this country for the season of about 2,400,000 bales, including linters and foreign-grown cotton.

New Orleans. New Orleans, June 12.—Cotton felt selling pressure throughout the session of the market here today. Some of the pressure was set down to liquidation and the rest to short selling, based on favorable crop accounts, the appearance of the second-bale of the new crop and the claim that many bolls were being reported at a much earlier date than usual in both Mississippi and Texas.

In the first-call momentary steadiness was shown and October advanced a point above yesterday's close. In the late afternoon prices were at their lowest, a net loss of 9 to 10 points. The close was 7 to 8 points down.

Bullish traders claimed too much rain was falling in some portions of the belt, especially in the Mississippi Valley, and the census bureau report on consumption by American mills for May was generally conceded to be bullish. The rise of 6 points in spot quotations excited favorable comment.

PALESTINE TRIP IS STRESSED BY LEAGUE

SPEAKERS DECLARE EAST TEXAS
EXCURSION TOMORROW OF GREAT IMPORTANCE.

Katy-American Express Employees Are Present at Meeting—Monthly
Reports Are Made.

When the Katy-American express employees met with the Y. M. B. L. at their general meeting last night at the league rooms, and a spirit of co-operation, good fellowship and fine feeling pervaded the meeting—it was in the air.

The general committees made their reports. F. E. Goodman, chairman of the agricultural committee, reported that an effort had been made to get the farmers and fine stock breeders to enter their best products in the Cotton Palace this year. Mr. Goodman said that the showing of the livestock at the Cotton Palace this year "would be the best ever seen in the state."

W. V. Crawford, chairman of the trade trip committee, reported that the mayor and the city commission would be expected to accompany the trippers when they go to Palestine Thursday. Hearne, he said, was the farthest that the trade trippers had ever been on that line and that it was expected to make the Palestine trip the greatest and most successful that has yet taken place. The next trip after the one to Palestine will be on the 29th of this month, because of the increase of rates on railroads that will begin on the first of July.

President Penland of the Chamber of Commerce in an address before the meeting emphasized the importance of the Palestine trade trip, because this territory has not been invaded before. Palestine, he said, is taking great interest in the coming of the Y. M. B. L. to that city and arrangements have been made for a royal reception. They will be met at the train in automobiles for a trip over the city and following that there will be other entertainments for the visitors. Mr. Penland especially stressed the desire to have a strong representation of not only boosters, but the best business men of Waco. This trip will be something out of the ordinary, the dinner and all entertainment being better than on any previous trip. He said that there would be much to be gained by having a strong representation from the business men of the city.

WHITE WAY DEPENDS ON CONTRACT.

W. W. Naman, chairman of the White Way committee, reported that the work of the committee is to secure a contract to be submitted by the Texas Power & Light company, which was expected at any time.

W. H. Hoffmann, chairman of the Cotton Palace guarantee fund, stated that the necessary $15,000 had been raised by the Y. M. B. L. teams in two and one-half days. Only a few hundred dollars remain to be subscribed and that will be secured by the general committee this week. President Duncan praised especially the three teams headed by R. E. L. Montgomery, W. L. Edmond and E. A. Miller, for their successful efforts in the campaign to raise the money, and said that more time was taken last year to complete the fund than it had taken this year.

KATY ASSOCIATION MEN SPEAK.

Some of the speakers for the Katy-American Express employees' association were: Madox, president of the association; A. J. Garrett, general yardmaster, and E. S. Walsh, dispatcher for the Missouri, Kansas & Texas. Mr. Madox spoke of the change that had taken place in the character of railroad men in the past quarter century, and of the spirit of usefulness that they now possess, and the desire that was theirs to help in any move toward the betterment of their city, their state or their country. He said:

"Gentlemen, we are not here tonight to exploit our wars, but we do hope that from this night on the Y. M. B. L. as well as the citizens of Waco in general will look upon every railroad employee as a citizen ready and willing to do his part toward the upbuilding of this community. While we have quite a number of members who are members of the Y. M. B. L. yet we expect to increase our memberships in the Y. M. B. L. and endeavor to become a useful factor in all your undertakings."

Mr. Walsh said, "We are going to co-operate with the Y. M. B. L. in any worthy effort that they put forth, and if in these efforts you cannot succeed, turn it over to us." He also pointed to the change that has taken place in the railroad man of the present and the one of twenty-five years ago, and said that the present railroad man takes an interest in the welfare of his city and stands pre-eminently for right and righteousness. He assured the Y. M. B. L. of the fellowship that will be toward them by the Katy-American employees and all railroad men.

W. W. Naman answered for the Y. M. B. L. saying that there was not another organization that he knew of in which there was so much patriotic spirit and energy expended. The incentive for this, he said, is not publicity, as that soon loses its savor. It is the desire to help.

EXPOSITION PRESIDENT ASKS CO-OPERATION.

Tom Bush, president of the Cotton Palace, asked the support of the Y. M. B. L. in all the enterprises that the Cotton Palace is trying to carry out, and urged a greater Y. M. B. L. day for the Cotton Palace.

HIRSCHBERG COMPLIMENTS RAILROAD MEN.

The speaker following Mr. Bush was Sel Hirschberg, who complimented the growth, standards and the accomplishments of the M. K. & T., and said that the railroads have given to the world two of its greatest things—system and service. He said that the railroad men represent the best thought and brains in the country.

Mayor John Dollins kept the audience in a furore for five minutes with

Farmers Are Busy in Fields Now

Only a few farmers were in yesterday, and nearly all of those came after additional help for farming operations, either in the way of hands for harvesting grain or for cotton choppers and corn choppers.

The grain has been largely cut and shocked, already, which is most encouraging, as rain will not now injure it. The yield promises to be rather better than expected.

All crops are now doing well, and rain within a few days would be acceptable once more.

Gov. James E. Ferguson reached St. Louis yesterday on a special sleeper bearing several other prominent men from Austin, and also having on board Hon. Allan D. Sanford of Waco, who joined this special sleeper on the Texas Special of the Katy.

The governor and those with him wanted to be together, so they arranged for this sleeper to take them all the way. They will return to Texas, after the national democratic convention, in the same manner that they went there, Mr. Sanford presumably coming back at the same time the Austin men do.

W. V. Crawford, chairman of the trade trip committee, reported that the mayor and the city commission would be expected to accompany the trippers when they go to Palestine Thursday. Hearne, he said, was the farthest that the trade trippers had ever been on that line and that it was expected to make the Palestine trip the greatest and most successful that has yet taken place. The next trip after the one to Palestine will be on the 29th of this month, because of the increase of rates on railroads that will begin on the first of July.

President Penland of the Chamber of Commerce in an address before the meeting emphasized the importance of the Palestine trade trip, because this territory has not been invaded before. Palestine, he said, is taking great interest in the coming of the Y. M. B. L. to that city and arrangements have been made for a royal reception. They will be met at the train in automobiles for a trip over the city and following that there will be other entertainments for the visitors. Mr. Penland especially stressed the desire to have a strong representation of not only boosters, but the best business men of Waco. This trip will be something out of the ordinary, the dinner and all entertainment being better than on any previous trip. He said that there would be much to be gained by having a strong representation from the business men of the city.

WHITE WAY DEPENDS ON CONTRACT.

W. W. Naman, chairman of the White Way committee, reported that they were awaiting the submission of a contract to be submitted by the Texas Power & Light company, which was expected at any time.

W. H. Hoffmann, chairman of the Cotton Palace guarantee fund, stated that the necessary $1,000 had been raised by the Y. M. B. L. teams in two and one-half days. Only a few hundred dollars remain to be subscribed and that will be secured by the local committee this week. President Duncan praised especially the three teams headed by R. E. L. Montgomery, W. L. Edmond and E. A. Miller, for their successful efforts in the campaign to raise the money, and advised that more time was taken last year to complete the fund than it had taken this year.

W. V. Crawford reported that it was certain that Waco would have forty friends in congress when the committee that visited and were entertained by this city reported to congress the results of their investigation on flood prevention. Waco will receive a great deal of advertising from the visit of the flood prevention committee, whether any other advantages come from it or not.

KATY ASSOCIATION MEN SPEAK.

Some of the speakers for the Katy-American Express employees' association were A. Maddox, president of the association; A. J. Garrett, general yardmaster, and E. S. Walsh, dispatcher for the Missouri Pacific. Mr. Maddox spoke of the change that has taken place in the character of railroad men in the past quarter century, and of the spirit of usefulness that they now possess, and the desire that was theirs to help in any movement that was for the betterment of their city, their state or their country. He said:

"Gentlemen, we are not here tonight to exploit our wives, but to help to build up this city. We are here to help to build up this city as well as the citizens of Waco in general will look upon every railroad employee as a citizen ready and willing to do his part toward the upbuilding of this community. While we have quite a number of members who are members of the Y. M. B. L. yet we expect to increase our memberships in the Y. M. B. L. and endeavor to be come a useful factor in all your undertakings."

Mr. Walsh said, "We are going to co-operate with the Y. M. B. L. in any worthy effort that they put forth, and if in these efforts you cannot succeed, turn it over to us." He also pointed to the change that has taken place in the railroad man of the present and the one of twenty-five years ago, and said that the present railroad man takes an interest in the welfare of his city and stands pre-eminently for right and righteousness. He assured the Y. M. B. L. of the fellowship that was felt toward them by the Katy-American employees and all railroad men.

W. W. Naman answered for the Y. M. B. L. saying that there was not another organization that he knew of in which there was so much patriotic spirit and energy expended. The incentive for this, he said, is not publicity, as that soon loses its savor. It is the desire to help.

EXPOSITION PRESIDENT ASKS CO-OPERATION.

Tom Bush, president of the Cotton Palace, asked the support of the Y. M. B. L. in all the enterprises that the Cotton Palace is trying to carry out, and urged a greater Y. M. B. L. day for the Cotton Palace.

HIRSCHBERG COMPLIMENTS RAILROAD MEN.

The speaker following Mr. Bush was Sol Hirschberg, who complimented the growth, standards and the accomplishments of the M. K. & T., and said that the railroads have given to the world two of its greatest things—system and service. He said that the railroad men represent the best thought and brains in the country.

Mayor John Dollins kept the audience in a furore for five minutes with

Y. M. C. A. Boys Had Great Time on Their Camp

Dusty, tired, happy, vigorous, enthusiastic, they streamed into headquarters Monday night, all talking at once of the glorious good time at the Bosque camp. Forty-six Y. M. C. A. boys in camp at once, and not an accident! This is a case where no news is good news. Everything went off smoothly the whole time and not a complaint has been registered. "A fine time and everything entirely satisfactory," is the general verdict.

Farmers Are Busy in Fields Now

Only a few farmers were in yesterday, and nearly all of those came after additional help for farming operations, either in the way of hands for harvesting grain or for cotton choppers and corn choppers. The grain has been largely cut and shocked, already, which is most encouraging, as rain will not now injure it. The yield promises to be rather better than expected. All crops are now doing well, and rain within a few days would be acceptable once more.

Hon. Allan D. Sanford Goes With Governor to St. Louis

Gov. James E. Ferguson reached St. Louis yesterday on a special sleeper bearing several other prominent men from Austin, and also having on board Hon. Allan D. Sanford of Waco, who joined this special sleeper on the Texas Special of the Katy.

The governor and those with him wanted to be together, so they arranged for this sleeper to take them all the way. They will return to Texas, after the national democratic convention, in the same manner that they went there, Mr. Sanford presumably coming back at the same time the Austin men do.

Tickets for Trade Trip Are Going Rapidly

"We are selling tickets right along, and as this is a new trip, it looks like it will be the biggest one we have yet had."

This is the way that A. G. Steele, in charge of ticket sales for the Palestine trip for a division of the city, put it yesterday, and it looks as though this trip will be one of the most successful yet conducted.

The trip is one of the regular trade excursions of the Waco Y. M. B. L.
